THAW EXTRADITION STILL HANGS FIRE

Governor Gives Counsel Until Monday to File Supplementary Briefs.

FIRE DIRECTED AT JEROME

Acting Attorney for New York Says True Bill Has Been Returned by Grand Jury in Dutchess County—Legal Aspects.

Concord, N. H., Sept. 23.—The duty of the State of New Hampshire toward Harry K. Thaw was the subject of exhaustive argument before Governor Felker today.

The legal battle in which William Travers Jerome, special deputy attorney general of New York State, which seeks to obtain the extradition of Thaw as a fugitive from justice, was pitted against three of the fugitive's array of counsel, was dramatic at times, and near the close seemed dangerously near to be personal.

To the charge that he had resorted to subterfuge and was moved by ulterior motives in his determniation to return Thaw to Matteawan Insane Asylum, Jerome retorted with unusual feeling that the State of New York would not permit its justice to be defeated by the expenditure of Thaw money.

At the conclusion of the arguments the Governor gave counsel until Monday to file supplementary briefs so his decision will not be known for a week at least.

Seated beside the Governor in the Senate chamber of the Capitol where the hearing was held was Attorney General Tuttle, by whose opinion the executive has said he will be guided.

During Jerome's arguments, new angles in the celebrated case developed. One that appeared to take the opposing counsel by surprise was his statement that Thaw is now under indictment in Dutchess county charged with conspiracy to escape from the insane asylum. Former Judge William M. Chase, of New Hampshire, and former Governor William Stone, of Pennsylvania, pleading for Thaw, had emphasized the common belief that no bill had been found against their client and that accordingly there was no evidence before the Governor that New York intended to place him on trial.

Jerome went further and gave his word that Thaw would be placed on trial if returned to New York State.

These assertions were coupled with the explanation that the returning of the indictment had been kept secret in order that evidence might be presented to the jury against "the instigator of this plot, a man of more importance than any one yet mentioned in this proceeding."

Judge Chase, in turn, suggested the idea that New York State had no right to confine who, he said, was a citizen of Pennsylvania and should by right have been returned to the State when he was adjudged insane.

In opening Mr. Jerome contented himself with stating that the Governor had no alternative to honoring the request of the New York authorities. He held that the only points to be determined were that Thaw was wanted, that he was in New York when the alleged offense was committed and the matter of his identity.

Judge Chase followed the argument that Thaw was insane when he escaped from Matteawan and therefore irresponsible. The charge of conspiracy had been trumped up, he said, for the purpose of returning Thaw to the asylum.

Governor Stone declared that there was no law to punish a lunatic for escaping from an asylum. Both quoted at length from authorities.

George F. Morris, the third of Thaw's counsel, attacked the petition for extradition saying it sought to do indirectly what its sponsors could not do directly. In the name of public opinion and public sentiment, he asked the Governor to exercise broad discretion in dealing with the case.

Mr. Jerome began his reply by saying that while he had listened to many arguments in many tribunals he had never heard a more extraordinary argument advanced than that of Mr. Morris, that in a forced and fraudulent public opinion the Governor of New Hampshire could and should find a reason for an excuse for disregarding the petition for a writ of extradition and for refusing to perform a duty laid upon him by the constitution of the United States. He then quoted from decisions of the United States Supreme Court to show that the process of extradition covered every offense punishable by law and that the certificate of the requesting Governor was all the authority as to the crime committed, that was needed by the Governor upon which the request was made.

Not Public at Poughkeepsie.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Sept. 23.—If the grand jury of Dutchess county has found an indictment against Harry K. Thaw as reported by William Travers Jerome at Concord today, it has not been made public here nor handed up in any court. The district attorney's office explained this afternoon that the jury had no report on the case and had adjourned for two weeks. It was added that it was possible, however, that an indictment had been found and kept secret.

NEW HAVEN'S WRECK.

Bad Equipment and Poor Operation Assigned as Cause.

Hartford, Conn., Sept. 23.—Lack of adequate signal system, the bunching of six trains within a ten-mile stretch of track, and reckless driving by the engineers in a fog, are given as causes of the collision between the Bar Harbor and White Mountain expresses on the New Haven railroad September 2nd, in the Public Utilities Commission's report on the accident today.

DRIVEN FROM HOME BY REBEL LEADER

Kentucky Physician Forced to Flee From Mexican Province.

HIS GOODS CONFISCATED

Stores Taken Possession of in Peidras Negras—Supporters of Huerta Are Persona Non Grata in Some Sections.

El Paso, Texas, Sept. 23.—Dr. E. C. Shackleford arrived here today from Santa Rosalia, Chihuahua, fleeing from Pancho Villa, the rebel leader, who gave him 24 hours to get out or be killed. Dr. Shackleford is a native of Frankfort, Ky., and has been living in Santa Rosalia six years.

He says when Villa and his rebel band entered the town September 15th, Villa sent for him, told him he was tired of "your American filibusterers" and declared he would shoot them all if they did not get out.

"Villa took all my books and accounts and told me he would collect my money," the doctor added. "He also forfeited my house and furnishings to the rebels, and placed two guards over me to see that I didn't depart with any money or property. I left September 16th. I had to walk out, carrying a suit case, which is all I saved. I hired an old mule at a ranch and finally reached the Texas line. My family was forced to flee from Santa Rosalia last May. They are now in Chihuahua. When I left Santa Rosalia last Tuesday, Villa had placed all the prominent Mexican women in town in jail, and had searched every home for money."

Stores Confiscated.

Eagle Pass., Texas, Sept. 23.—A number of stores in Peidras Negras, owned by alleged Federal sympathizers, now living on the American side, were confiscated today by constitutionalists under warrants issued by the insurgent authorities, charging the establishments were being used as headquarters by supporters of Huerta.

Slaughter at San Luis Potosi.

San Luis Potosi, Mexico, Sept. 23.—Confirmation has been received of the slaughter of the garrisons at Laguna Seca and Charas, in the State of San Luis Potosi. Only one subordinate officer is said to have escaped. The Federals at Laguna Seca numbered 35. They fought until their ammunition was gone and then charged the rebels with bavonets.

At Charcas, where the number of Federals is believed to have been larger, they fought to the last man.

The station agent at Laguna Seca and his assistant were lined up to be shot, but were saved by an elderly rebel officer. The object of these attacks is not apparent. The railroad was not damaged and the trains are running, though from 12 to 30 hours late.

Thomasville, Ga., Sept. 23.—Representative C. A. Rodenbery tonight was at the point of death, according to an announcement at a late hour by physicians at his bedside. Representative Rodenbery suffered a nervous breakdown last week and since Saturday his condition has been extremely critical. Tonight he had been under the injuence of narcotics for a number of hours and was said to be growing weaker.

Tar Heel Solons Come Home Soon

(Special Star Telegram.)

Washington, D. C., Sept. 23.—As soon as the conferees agree upon the tariff bill and the measure becomes a law, the House will take a recess for about three weeks.

Already the North Carolina delegation is preparing to leave for the State and take a much postponed vacation. Representatives Page and Webb, and their families will motor to the State as soon as the gavel falls announcing the recess period. Representatives Godwin, Stedman, Small and in fact all the rest of the delegation, is expected to follow in a short time.

Representative Webb today invited Secretary of the Navy Daniels to deliver an address before the Young Ladies' Improvement Society of Lincolnton October 7th. Mr. Daniels would like to go, but does not think it will be possible to do so.

J. L. Murphy, Jr., of Hickory, is here to enter Georgetown University Law School. Henry T. Hicks, of Raleigh, is here. P. R. A.

MANN WHITE SLAVE ACT.

Judge Holds Does Not Apply to Personal Escapades.

Wichita, Kas., Sept. 23.—Lee Baker, a barber, was acquitted of a white slavery charge in the Federal court here today after Judge John C. Pollock had instructed the jury that it must be shown that Baker took Cora Stover to Texas for commercial purposes before the jury could convict him of violating the Mann law.

Baker yesterday entered a plea of guilty. Judge Pollock asked if the plea was based on the interpretation of the Mann law in the Diggs case in California. Baker replied that it was. Judge Pollock then said the Mann act applied only to commercial features of the inter-State transportation of women and suggested the plea be changed to not guilty. "It was not the aim of Congress to prevent the personal escapades of any man," said Judge Pollock.

TARIFF PENALTY NOT FEARED

Senator Simmons Does Not Look for Retaliation by Foreign Countries—Cotton Tax Feature to be Considered Today.

Washington, Sept. 23.—Chairman Simmons, of the joint Congressional tariff conference committee, informed officials of the State Department today that he did not believe it necessary to supplement the tariff bill with any resolution designed to continue existing trade relations with foreign countries.

The point raised yesterday by Secretary Bryan and which had given State Department officials concern, was the subject of a further conference today between Senator Simmons and Robert F. Rose, a foreign trade adviser of the department.

"I don't think there is any danger of foreign countries imposing tariff penalties against the United States or any reason for such action," said Senator Simmons tonight. "The new tariff will offer the minimum rates of the United States to all countries and I can see no just reason for any countries taking action to disturb existing conditions or to withdraw favored nation treatment from the United States."

The State Department was at work today upon the preparation of a resolution such as the officials desired to have passed by both Houses of Congress, guaranteeing that maximum penalties of the proposed new law would not be applied against any country until an opportunity had been given for the negotiation of new treaties. A majority of the members of the tariff conference committee do not believe its passage is necessary but its introduction will depend entirely upon the decision reached at further conferences between the State Department and Congressional leaders.

The conferees today completed most of the administrative sections of the tariff bill but left open a number of important items that will be disposed of tomorrow. Those include the retaliatory section of the law, the anti-dumping clause and the section giving five per cent. rebate in tariff on goods brought in American-owned ships.

The Senate's amendment prohibiting attorneys from taking customs cases on a contingent basis was agreed to. The strong inquisitorial features of the House bill which would give this country authority to exclude merchandise when foreign manufacturers refused to disclose their cost of manufacture or show their books, was modified materially. In its new form, this section of the bill would give the Secretary of the Treasury authority to levy a penalty in the form of extra duty against goods where manufacturers have shown an undue disinclination to disclose manufacturing costs or other information contained by American appraising office.

The Clark cotton futures tariff bill will be taken up by the conferees tomorrow morning. An opportunity will be given Senator Clarke, to make a short statement and a similar opportunity will be given Senator Smith, of South Carolina, who has drawn a bill for a cotton futures tax that has received some consideration in the Senate.

Woodstock, Va., Sept. 23.—Miss Mary Dosh was fatally injured here today when struck by an automobile as she was crossing a street. She died in a few minutes. Her companion, Mrs. John Paxton, was severely hurt.

MAY HAVE MANY VICTIMS

Police of Many Cities Asked to Look for Joseph Ellis—Has Mania for Murder of Cothing Merchants.

Indianapolis, Ind., Sept. 23.—Convinced that the young man who yesterday brutally murdered and robbed Joseph Schlansky, a clothing merchant, in a hotel here, is the same person who has committed similar crimes in several Eastern and Middle Western cities, the local police department tonight asked officers in every large city east of the Mississippi river to watch for the slayer. They believe the murderer is Joseph Ellis, about 21 years old, of Richmold, Va.

Investigation of the murder of Schlansky showed that it had been coolly planned and the escape was so cunningly carried out as to throw off suspicion temporarily.

After murdering the merchant, the man discarded a collar spotted with blood, walked to a nearby store where he purchased another and then returning to the lobby of the hotel wherein his victim lay dead, remained for an hour or more. Late in the afternoon the slayer returned to his room and then going to the union depot secured his suit case from the check room and is believed to have caught an eastbound train.

From information gathered by the police, Ellis, known also as Brokaw,

OUTLINES

Federal Judge Emory Speer is ill with ptomaine poisoning at Highlands, N. C., where he went several days ago for a nervous breakdown.

Yesterday was a day of legal argument in the Sulzer trial, counsel for the impeached executive seeking to have certain articles stricken out.

Dr. Schackleford, a Kentuckian, has fled to El Paso, Texas, from Chihuahua, Mexico, having been given orders to leave by the rebels who confiscated all his property.

President Wilson spent yesterday at his old home in Princeton, whither he went to vote in the New Jersey primary; it was a day of delightful reminiscence for him.

Walter Murphy, of Rowan, was last night selected by the Democratic caucus as speaker of the lower branch of the North Carolina General Assembly for the extra session to deal with the freight rate situation.

A speaker before the Meat Packers' Association yesterday advocated the government's stocking its lands in the West with cattle and having the U. S. cavalry turn cowboys to prevent an ultimate meat famine in this country.

At the conclusion of the Thaw hearing at Concord yesterday Governor Felker gave the attorneys until Monday to file supplementary briefs so that a decision may not be reached in a week; Jerome contends that the New York grand jury did find a true bill against the fugitive.

Senator Simmons and other Congressional leaders do not think there will be a disposition on the part of foreign nations to withdraw the "favored nations clause" from the United States on account of the new tariff bill; very fair progress was made in the conference work yesterday.

New York markets: Money on call, firm 2 3-4 to 3 per cent., ruling rate 3, closing bid 2 3-4 to 3 per cent.; time loans weaker; flour active, wheat easy, No. 2 red 95; corn easy, export 72; turpentine steady, rosin quiet; spot cotton steady 13.60.

WILSON AT PRINCETON, N. J.

Princeton, N. J., Sept. 23.—President Wilson left here at 4 o'clock this afternoon for Washington after spending one of the happiest days of his life in his home town. He came to vote in the Democratic primaries for Governor, but he turned the day into one of joyful reminiscence as he walked with friends amid the familiar scenes of Princeton University.

Life-long companions who saw him today for the first time since he left here on March 3rd, for the inauguration declared he had never looked better. It was the proud alumnus and not the chief magistrate of the Nation who swung easily along through the campus. Members of the faculty, students and townsfolk trailed the President about. He shook hands with many he met.

The President's memory for faces was illustrated in a curious way. In a group of students who passed, he spied one who nodded but passed modestly onward.

"Hello, Jack Westcott," said the President, as he stepped forward and greeted the bashful young man. "When I saw him last," explained Mr. Wilson afterwards to his companions, "he was but a small boy." Young Westcott is a son of Prof. Westcott, who teaches in the University.

In the trophy room at the gymnasium the President animately called attention to the collection of footballs and baseballs, some painted red and others blue. "The blue ones are those won from Yale and the red ones those we won from Harvard," said the President, smiling. "We are very proud of them."

After his tour through the University the President motored to the Cleveland memorial tower and the graduate college. He made but one call, this at the home of Mrs. Eliza Ricketts, 87 years old, his next door neighbor, and acquaintance of many years. He also went to his old home at Cleveland Lane, and found his key in his pocket and showed his friends about.

After an automobile ride to the Lawrenceville School the President boarded his private car. The crowd gave him a farewell cheer as his train pulled out.

Washington, Sept. 23.—The cases of the 18 cadets under punishment at the military academy for hazing are to receive personal consideration by Secretary Garrison. Col. Clarence P. Townsley, superintendent at West Point, is coming to Washington with all the papers.

BRYAN HIGGINS KILLED.

Sanford, Fla., Sept. 23.—In a head-on collision of an Atlantic Coast Line passenger train and light engine this morning near here, Engineer Bryan Higgins was killed. He is a son of Superintendent Higgins, of the Atlantic Coast Line. None of the passengers were injured. Both locomotives were demolished and two cars wrecked. Young Higgins is formerly of Wilmington, N. C., where his parents lived for several years.

DAY OF ARGUMENT IN SULZER TRIAL

Question of Whether He Will Answer Charge of Misuse of Funds.

JACOB SCHIFF TO TESTIFY

Bankers, Brokers and Their Employes to Unfold Tale of Impeached Executive's Transactions—The Counsel.

Albany, Sept. 23.—After a day spent in listening to lengthy arguments, the high court, for the trial for the impeachment of Governor William Sulzer, adjourned tonight without having decided whether the impeached executive will have to answer charges involving the misuse of funds contributed for his campaign last Fall. It is expected that the court will reach a decision early tomorrow.

In event of the denial of the motion to strike out the three articles dealing with the campaign contributions, the guns of the impeached executive's legal battery will have been spiked, as far as the preliminaries are concerned, and the actual trial will begin.

That counsel for the Assembly managers are confident the court will not dismiss the three articles, is evidenced by the fact that they announced that Jacob H. Schiff and others who contributed to the Sulzer election fund, would be on hand tomorrow to testify. Schiff, counsel announced, would be the first witness for the prosecution on the contested facts.

Governor Sulzer today submitted to the ruling of the high court that the Assembly had the constitutional right to impeach him. This announcement was made at the opening of court by Judge D. Cady Herrick, chief counsel for the impeached executive, who declared that "the Governor will bow to the will of the court, and will exercise none of the prerogatives of his office pending the determination of impeachment charges."

Counsel for the Assembly managers were busy tonight preparing to place their only witnesses on the stand. Formal proof of the nomination and election of the Governor first will be adduced. Later the Governor's statement of campaign expenses and disbursements sworn to and filed with the Secretary of State will be proved. It is on this statement that the prosecution bases its most serious charges. The articles of impeachment charge Governor Sulzer with having received at least $8,500 of which no mention is made in the sworn statement.

The preliminaries disposed of, the managers are planning to center their fight upon the three articles, as follows: First, second and sixth—having to do with the Governor's campaign contributions and his alleged use of the funds in Wall Street, if the court rules they may be considered. Those charge perjury, fraud and larceny.

The managers expect to prove all three by the testimony of the same witnesses. Bankers, brokers and their employes will be asked to tell what they know of the executive's alleged dealings on the stock exchange. It will probably be a week before this line of proof is completed.

To Avert Famine In Meat Supply

Chicago, Sept. 23.—It is the duty of the United States to stock its government lands in the West with cattle, particularly for the army, and have the cavalry to work as cowboys and handle the animals supply to packers with this beef at cost so that the price would be lowered to the people, and a threatened meat famine due in six or eight years averted, in the opinion of A. M. Dubin, of New York, a delegate to the American Meat Packers' Association.

"My suggestion is perfectly simple," said Mr. Dubin. "The government lands in the West could be made into great pastures, where countless cattle could be raised to relieve the present high cost of meat and avert the famine that surely is coming otherwise.

"Unless some such action is taken there will be no meat on the tables of American working-men in the next decade. The government has no higher obligation than to relieve this situation, which every day is becomnig more serious. The land so stocked could supply the army with meat first, then the rest could be sent to the packers at cost and the consumer would get it with the mere price of dressing added. The lower price would be astonishing. This action or something just as efficacious could be done at once."

The American housewife was taken to task for wasting meat. A fourth part of all the meat killed for the table is wasted. Poor families refuse to be content with hash and round steaks, despite the fact that those cuts can be made delicious by correct cooking and the great American family of meat eaters fails to practice proper economy in its meat diet, said John T. Russell, president of the Master Butchers' Association of America. He added the housewife must do her part if the high prices of meats are to be brought down, or even prevented from going up.

The packers voted yesterday to spend $100,000 a year for five years to stimulate the cattle raising industry.

MURPHY OF ROWAN CHOSEN SPEAKER

Caucus of House Democrats Last Night Selected Him By Acclamation.

LEGISLATURE MEETS TODAY

Raleigh Filling Up With Members of the General Assembly—Governor's Message Tomorrow—Mass Meeting.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 23.—Hon. Walter Murphy, of Rowan county, was chosen by acclamation by the Democratic caucus tonight to be speaker of the House to succeed Hon. George W. Connor, who resigned to take appointment at the hands of Governor Craig as Superior Court judge.

More than a hundred members were here for the caucus. During the afternoon there came first the withdrawal of Representative W. H. Weatherspoon, of Scotland county, and then of Representative T. C. Bowie, of Ashe, leaving Murphy as the sole active candidate for the speakership.

Bowie Caucus Chairman.

Mr. Bowie presided as chairman of the caucus. Mr. Murphy was nominated by Representative P. S. Carlton, of Rowan, whose high tribute to the experience and ability of Mr. Murphy elecited enthusiastic applause. He told of his six terms of service as a member of the Legislature, with active connection with numbers of the most important committees, and his activities for the Democratic party, including the Presidential electorship in 1908 and secretaryship of the Democratic State Convention in 1912. These services and wide experience in other public activities had, Mr. Carlton declared, enabled him to acquire a scope of knowledge of parliamentary rules that has won for him the popular title of "Prince of Parliamentarians."

Kellum Seconds Nomination.

Representatives Woodus Kellum, of New Hanover, and R. R. Williams, of Buncombe, seconded the nomination, and, on motion of Representative R. A. Doughton, of Alleghany, the nomination was made by acclamation.

Representatives Carlton, Williams and Kellum were sent as a committee to escort Murphy into the hall. An ovation followed and Mr. Murphy told his Democratic colleagues that he was deeply grateful for the honor and it would be his great concern to discharge the duties satisfactory. To be chosen speaker of a General Assembly by the Democratic party in North Carolina he declared to be an especially great honor, and to be called to serve in this capacity when such history-making problems are to be considered as are slated for this Assembly, made the honor and the responsibility all the greater. There was no other business, and on motion of Representative S. C. Brawley, of Durham, the caucus adjourned.

No Caucus Senate.

There was no caucus of the Senators tonight so that body will go into the election of a reading clerk to succeed the late Robert M. Phillips tomorrow without a previous conference by the Democrats. Also, there will be the election of engrossing clerk to succeed W. H. Sawyer, now city clerk for Raleigh.

Rates All-absorbing Topic.

The course that will be pursued by the Legislature as to the railroad freight rate proposal is the all-absorbing topic. The Governor will send his message to the Assembly Thursday, but he will address the Just Freight Rate Association mass meeting tomorrow afternoon and he is expected to indicate in this just what his attitude will be. Hon. E. J. Justice, of Guilford, who is expected to lead whatever opposition there is to the railroad companies, says that the proposal cannot be satisfactory to him until all uncertain conditions are removed. He demands that every proposed reduction shall be positively fixed in spite of the fact that all those which are not positive are conditioned on agreement by the connecting carriers to be taken from their share of the earnings.

KEEP BOYS ON THE FARM.

Governor Cox Declares High Cost of Living Due to Emigration.

Plano, Ill., Sept. 23.—"Keep the boy on the farm and restore community life in the country." This was the message brought to the 23rd annual Farmers' National Congress by Governor Cox, of Ohio, at the opening session of the congress here today.

Governor Dunne, of Illinois, endorsed the message. All the speakers of the afternoon talked on the high cost of living and all agreed that it centered in the emigration of country boys from the farm to the city.

"To keep the boy on the farm is our problem. It is a problem we have signally failed to solve," Governor Cox said. "My solution of it is smaller farms. There should be more farmer owners working their own land, instead of big property owners owning large tracts worked by tenants or overseers."

Governor Cox said he saw no reason why life in the country should not be entertaining. "Every township should have a combination community house and high school. They should have lyceums there, moving pictures, and the like. A strong sense of community life should be developed."

Charles T. Sanford, president of the congress, discussed the "great margin of expense that is found somewhere between the producer and consumer and adds to the high cost of living."

TWENTY-ONE MACKMEN SCORE IN FINAL DETROIT GAME

Piled Up Ten Runs in Second Inning Overcoming 6-Run Lead

NAPS AND SENATORS LOST

Ray Caldwell Held Naps to Four Hits. Senators' Ragged Playing—Red and White Sox Divided Double Bill.

After allowing the Detroit Tigers to pile up a lead of six tallies in the first two innings of yesterday's game, hitting Pennock hard in these two innings, the Philadelphia Athletics starting in the second inning with a total of ten runs, adding 11 more before the agony was over, or a total of 21 runs in eight and a half innings. Williams went completely to pieces after the first inning, allowing ten hits in that frame.

Ray Caldwell held the Cleveland Naps to four hits yesterday, and the New York Yankees won a 3 to 1 victory, not a Cleveland batter reaching third until the ninth inning, when one man counted. Vean Gregg was on the mound for the Naps, allowing nine hits.

Ragged playing by the Senators, aided by two wild pitches by Bob Groom aided the St. Louis Browns in taking the final game of the series by a 5 to 3 score.

Both games at Boston resulted in a 3 to 2 score, but the first was in favor of the locals and the second went to the White Sox. Walsh, who began the second game on the mound for Chicago, started a game for the first time since July 19th, having been used since then only as a rescuer in the final innings.

Helluva Game.

Philadelphia, Sept. 23—After Detroit had piled up a six run lead in the first two innings this afternoon Philadelphia hammered the ball all over the field and won the game by 21 to 8. Scoring for the home team began in the second session when ten hits and two passes off Williams, a left hander, netted ten runs.

Walsh, who began the second game as Chicago's pitcher, started a game for the first time since July 19th. Boston nosed out its victory during the final inning of the opening game. Despite fine pitching by Bedient and the fact that Boston outbatted Chicago, the visitors led throughout the second game.

LOBBY REPORT READY.

Will be Submitted This Week—Case of Mr. McDermott.

Washington, Sept. 23.—The report of the House Lobby Committee probably will be submitted by Chairman Garrett during the present week. It will be a voluminous document, dealing in detail with the thousands of pages of evidence given before the committee.

One part of the report that is troubling members of the committee is that concerning Representative McDermott, of Illinois. Some of the committeemen are said to hold that the various charges which Martin M. Mulhall, former "lobbyist" for the National Association of Manufacturers, and I. H. McMichael, one-time chief page of the House, made against McDermott, were not sufficiently substantiated to warrant further action.

It is expected, however, that the committee at least will lay before the House the facts that McDermott borrowed $500 from a Washington Association of liquor dealers during the pendency of stringent District of Columbia liquor legislation.

Analyzing The Fielding Records

In just taking a glance at the fielding averages of the New York Nationals and Philadelphia Americans, it would be a toss up as to which had the better fielding club, the figures shown by the Giants really appearing a bit better than those boasted of by the tribe headed by Connie Mack. To a casual observer the picking of a favorite would be hard, but to see the infielders of the rival clubs it would take a baseball fan just ten seconds to make a decided choice and this choice he would back against all comers.

It is said that figures never lie, but in this instance they most assuredly slip over the old rule and do a bit of vice work. Through the games of the past few weeks the New Yorkers and Philadelphians had each played in 138 championship games, and the Giants had fielded an average of .962 against .966 for the Mackmen. This appears to give the Giants the back seat, but in delving into the figures you will see that they really spell an advantage for McGraw.

Through last week the Giants accepted 3,818 putouts against 3,675 for the Mackmen; the Giants had 1,720 assists against 1,750 for Philadelphia, while Philadelphia had 192 errors and the Giants 220. The figures plainly tell that in the same number of games the Giants have gone after 5,758 chances against 5,617 for Philadelphia, which is 141 more for the McGraw bunch. This is an evidence of the fact, supposedly, that the Giant players go after more hard hit balls than the tribe of Mack. And again, the Giant players have accepted 5,538 chances against 5,425 for the Mackmen, which shows that the Giants have accepted 113 more balls than their rivals and again this would supposedly show that the Giant boys are better at landing what they go after. And in conclusion, the Giants to date have pulled off 90 double plays to the 80 of the Mack tribe, a lead of ten, which once again shows a difference in the ability of the two teams with the Giants ruling favorites.

PROTECTION OF FOOD FISH.

Important Conference Held Yesterday in Office of Secretary.

Washington, Sept. 23.—Destruction of food fish in the waters of the Chesapeake Bay and its tributaries was the subject of a conference held today in the office of Secretary of Commerce Redfield. The primary idea of the conference was to devise means for the enactment of uniform laws to prevent the catching and use of fish as fertilizer.

Secretary Redfield, Governor Goldsborough, of Maryland; Representative Jones, of Virginia, representing Governor Mann, of the same State; Senator Smith and Representative Linthicum, of Maryland; Commissioner of Fisheries Jones, and Major Edward Jadwin, of the corps of engineers of the army, representing the Secretary of War, participated in the conference.

It was pointed out that thousands of tons of fish now are being taken annually and turned over to fertilizer works, which have been established on the shores of Chesapeake Bay and its tributaries, both in Maryland and Virginia. This wholesale destruction of fish is reducing constantly the food fish supply and increasing the market price of fish to the consumer.

An even more serious end was indicated by the fact that the fish are prevented by the thousands of nets stretched in the bay and in the rivers tributary to it from ascending the streams in the spawning season. The fish are caught before they have had opportunity to spawn and thus untold millions of fish in embryo are destroyed.

The presence of so many nets in navigable waters was regarded by the conferees as an obstruction to navigation which ought not to be permitted. Major Jadwin suggested that Secretary Garrison now was giving serious consideration to this phase of the subject.

No definite conclusions were reached but the conferees expect to follow up the subject with a view to securing the enactment not only by the National Congress, but by the Legislatures of the States affected, of uniform laws, for the protection of food fish.

THE ETERNAL DOPE.

(By Grantland Rice.)

They say that a pitcher isn't of as much value to a ball club as an outfielder who works in 154 games. Where then would the Senators be without Johnson, or the White Sox without Russell This isn't a complete answer, but we trust you inhale the bulk of original idea involved.

A certain paper has written us to shoot in a statement concerning the ultimate winner of the next world's series. Why should we give up such valuable information with the rent due and our thin Summer coat facing a long, hard Winter? We'd like to be club like and passibly unselfish, but there are limits.

Frank Chance nosed the Browns out of last place Wednesday, and in many quarters was given more credit for the achievement than he ever drew in winning a world series. When you are a leader quite a good deal depends upon who, whom or what you are leading. It is sometimes of even fair importance.

After cleaning up Cleveland the Senators lost no time in receding. They had done the work, and nobly, that Fate had given them to do. For it was written in the Koran and carved upon the ancient stones of Chaldea that Washington's main assignment from one generation unto another should be the job of mauling the everlasting hide off Cleveland any time the Naps entertained any desire or thought of winning a flag. And Washington has always made good.

Our idea of nobody to try and catch is Ty Cobb entering the home stretch a length to the good. The fellow is hard enough to catch when he's behind.

No wonder America has felt a thrill of risks over the English invasion from Vardon and Ray with the Big Four dismounted, McLoughlin in California and both Cobb and Jackson centering up a civil war of their own.

The Red Sox failed to uphold the 1912 prestige of the legion in crimson hose, but judging from report Prof. Haughton has no idea of receding along his portion of the job. On the other hand—

TY COBB BANK NOTES.

Treasury Department Officials Too Lax With Their Privileges.

Washington, Sept. 23.—The freedom of the Treasury Department accorded Ty Cobb, the Detroit center fielder, on the sight-seeing tour a few days ago resulted in the issuance of an iron-clad order today by Thomas P. Kane, acting comptroller of the currency, forbidding the entrance of any outsider to any of the vaults containing National bank notes.

The treasury, probably more than any other department in Washington, is filled with baseball fans and when the Detroit star called he was figuratively handed the keys of the building. He was ushered into the big vault containing National bank notes and being a director of a Lavonia, Ga., bank, was permitted to write his name along the margin of a sheet of notes. When this episode appeared in the newspapers Comptroller Kane was startled because an immemorial rule of the Treasury had been broken.

LIQUOR'S VARIED PROBLEMS.

Discussed at International Congress at Milan, Italy, Yesterday.

Milan, Italy, Sept. 23.—The president of the Fourteenth International Congress on Alcoholism, Dr. Angelio Filippetti, announced at the session this afternoon that the permanent committee had decided to propose that the Congress in 1915 should be held in the United States. This requires the ratification of the Congress prior to adjournment.

Several interesting papers were read today, including one by William Johnson, of Westerville, Ohio, dealing with the fight against alcoholism in the United States. The delegates also discussed the liquor traffic from an economic standpoint, and tentatively agreed to the organization of three international institutions—a bureau for combatting alcoholism, a federation for the protection of native races, and a federation of physicians for the prescribing of liquors in medical cases.

BROOKLYN DEFEATED PIRATES TWO STRAIGHT BATTLES

Recruit Conselman Twirled Good Game for the Pirates

GIANTS OPEN AT HOME TODAY

Giants Have Nine More Games Scheduled With Brooklyn, Boston and Phillies—Phillies Have Fourteen More.

Only one event, a double-header, was scheduled on the National circuit yesterday, the other teams being en route to new stands where they will open up today. The Brooklyn Car Dodgers took both ends of a double-header from the Pittsburgh Pirates, the first five to one and the second a shutout, one to nothing.

Nap Rucker twirled the second event, pitching brilliantly against Conselman, a recruit from the Atlanta, Ga., Southern League club. Conselman kept Brooklyn shutout until the ninth inning, when a triple and a single by Smith and Fischer brought the former across the plate with the only run of the game. Earl Yingling was credited with another victory in the first event of the afternoon.

The Giants open up at the Polo Grounds this afternoon with a single game with the Brooklyn Dodgers. Tomorrow they go over to the Flatbush region for three games with the Dodgers and then on to Boston for three games, closing the month of September. On October 2nd they will be on their local lot again for the final series of the season, an affair of five and one-ninth games with the Phillies.

Another Recruit Victorious.

Pittsburgh, Sept. 23.—Brooklyn took both ends of a double-header from Pittsburgh this afternoon, the first on timely hits 5 to 1. Nap Rucker won the second game 1 to 0, pitching brilliantly against Conselman, an Atlanta recruit, who kept Brooklyn shutout until the ninth. With one man out in the last inning, Smith tripled to left. Conselman struck out Shortstop Fisherfield but Catcher Fischer placed a single in left bringing Smith across the plate with the only run of the game.

NEW FLYING RECORD.

French Aviator Takes Longest Over-Sea Journeey Ever Known.

Bizerta, Tunis, Sept. 23.—Roland G. Garos, the French aviator, today flew 558 miles across the Mediterranean, from St. Raphael, France, to this city, the most northern seaport of Tunis. His time was seven hours and 53 minutes. He started at 5:52 A. M. and reached here at 1:45 P. M. The ught is the longest over-sea journey ever made in an aeroplane. The aviator refused to accept the advice offered him that he should affix floaters to his aeroplane, as a precaution in case he should be forced to descend on the water. He also declined the offer made by the French naval authorities to station torpedo boat destroyers at intervals along his route from France to Tunis.

WEEKLY WEATHER BULLETIN.

Rain Interferes With Gathering of Cotton Crop in Many States.

Washington, Sept. 23.—The National Weekly weather bulletin of the Weather Bureau, issued today for the week ending yesterday says:

"In the cotton region the weather was cool and cloudy, with rain at frequent intervals from Arkansas and Louisiana eastward to the Carolinas. It was likewise cool in Texas and Oklahoma and considerably cloudy, rainy weather prevailed the first half of the week, interfering with cotton picking. The latter part of the week was clear and picking progressed under favorable conditions."

Chicago District Attorney Asked to Investigate the League.

Chicago, Sept. 23.—The offices of United States District Attorney Wilkerson were called upon today to investigate an alleged allegation that the Motion Picture Exhibitors' League of America is violating the anti-trust law. The complaint was made by Adolph W. Weiner, a lawyer, who declared that the various film exchanges, at the instance of the league, are beginning to dictate terms upon which theatres may exhibit the films.

World Series To Be a Hummer

(By W. J. MacBeth.)

New York, Sept. 22.—The Giants and the Athletics this year should furnish one of the most thrilling struggles of world's series history. Such a classic is good or bad according to whether the contestants are evenly matched. Not only are the Polo Grounders and the Shibe Park lads of about kindred playing strength, but both have been so erratic the latter part of the season that almost anything may be expected in the great clash.

Both Are Off Color.

Both the Giants and the Athletics have been going in rather slip-shod fashion for a month. Were they to start the big doings tomorrow it would be a puzzle to dope it. The team with the luck would win. But before the end of another two weeks the prospective rivals are likely to settle down to real business. McGraw and Mack will doubtless bring their forces to the wire in the very best shape for a better fight. With both teams traveling at their best paces the series should be a hummer just as it would be a hummer if both were at their worst. Should either team arrive at its true form while the other maintained the erratic behavior that characterized the stretch run of the pennant races the competition in the annual classic would very likely develop into much of a farce.

The Giants have the greatest opportunity imaginable to go round the world this Winter as champions of the universe. I do not see how the Athletics can beat McGraw's bunch if it is able to get back to the form it showed the first three months. Without a .300 hitter McGraw went through a disastrous slump that lasted nearly two months. That speaks volumes for the pitching at his command.

Depends on Pitching.

Pitching is a great deal of a world's series argument. In this line McGraw lays it all over Connie Mack. The crafty leader of the Athletics has only two very much overworked veterans at his command — Southpaw Eddie Plank and Indian Bender. Both have been worked to death. Mack has a bunch of young talent which has been very erratic all season. They may stand up under the strain of a world's series and again they may not.

Outside of the slab McGraw can just about hold his own. Meyers and McLean are better all-around men than Schang and Lapp. The Philadelphia infield has a shade on the Giant inner works, but the Giants have the better garden trio. When the Giants were hitting to form they could hold up their end in this department with the slugging Mackmen. And what McGraw lacks in hitting power he more than makes up for in sheer speed.

COBB VS. JACKSON

Ty Cobb pursued the even tenor of his way in yesterday's engagement, and is now weeping for more worlds to conquer. He had five trials and made two safe hits, which did not change his standing. Jackson had three trials out of which he successfully connected once, and Tris Speaker effectively erased his name from the race by seven trips to the plate with only one hit to show for the afternoon's work.

TENNESSEE LEGISLATURE.

Presence of Gunmen in Hall, Asserted by Speaker of House.

Nashville, Tenn., Sept. 23.—Speaker W. M. Stanton, of the House, today shocked members of the Tennessee General Assembly and visitors crowding the galleries by dramatically asserting that two suit cases filled with guns had been brought into the office of the superintendent of the company and that gunmen were present in the hall. Speaker Stanton's charges were made during a speech to a question of personal privilege. A number of heated speeches were made. Later the House defeated a motion to bring before it the superintendent of the company and refused to investigate the speaker's charges of the presence of gunmen.

The so-called law enforcement bills, about which factions of the Legislature have engaged in a bitter controversy probably will come up for consideration tomorrow.

The Senate today passed a bill providing for direct popular election of United States Senators. This bill was passed by the House yesterday.

FOR THE WORLD SERIES

"Signed" By The Star.

The Star takes pleasure in announcing to local followers of the game, that even better arrangements than ever before have been made to give its readers the best and most authentic accounts of the titanic struggle for baseball supremacy of the world to be staged the second week in October between the Athletics, American League champions, and the New York Giants, National champions.

Supplementing the usual full and accurate details of the games as furnished heretofore by the Associated Press, The Star has "signed up" Rube Marquard, star twirler of the Giants, to furnish daily his own account of and comments on each game, written in the "Rube's" own inimitable style. Marquard's story will reveal the "inside baseball" side of each game—that important angle which is often passed unnoticed by an outsider, and upon which often hinges victory or defeat.

Marquard's story will come to us by wire every night during the series, and will be among the most interesting "dope" on the games to be had, and The Star congratulates itself and its readers upon being able to acquire the services of this great ball player and eminent authority on the game to give his version of the great contests.

BRYAN'S PRIVATE AFFAIRS.

Secretary Does Not Care to Discuss Them Publicly.

Washington, Sept. 23.—Secretary Bryan says he doesn't mind discussing his sources of income, but he thinks it is going a little too far to ask him to make a public detailed account of his private expenditures. A speech by Senator Martine, defending the Secretary's chautauqua lecturing, in which the Senator said Mr. Bryan was supporting missionary students in Japan, brought inquiries today.

The Secretary issued this statement:

"We are not educating any boys in Japan. A Japanese student lived with us for about five years but Senator Martine's remarks probably refer to students whom we have assisted in other parts of Asia, but I do not consider it necessary to discuss the matter. I have discussed the sources of my income, but I am not yet convinced that the public requires me to discuss each contribution which I see fit to make to a worthy cause.

"I may add that I answer these questions with reluctance and with the feeling that the newspapers represented by those who ask the questions feel more curiosity than the general public does in regard to my private affairs.'

YANKS AT POLO GROUNDS.

Will Play on National League Field Seasons of 1914.

New York, Sept. 23.—As the result of an agreement reached this afternoon between New York National and American baseball clubs, the Yankees, under Frank Chance, will play their scheduled games of 1914 at the Polo Grounds. This arrangement was made necessary by the fact that President Frank Farrell, of the local American League club, was unable to secure satisfactory title to the property upon which the new baseball field and stands will be built in time to have them ready for the opening of the 1914 season.

NEWBERN THOROUGHLY ALIVE

Wilmington Men Address Chamber of Commerce and Vigorous Protest Against Proposed Rate Settlement Adopted.

Messrs. Louis Hall and Gilchrist McCormick returned yesterday morning from Newbern where they went at the invitation of the Newbern Chamber of Commerce to discuss the freight rates situation with them. Mr. J. A. Taylor had also been invited to attend, and was prevented from doing so on account of illness in his family. Much regret was expressed for his absence and the cause of it.

The meeting was held in the Court House, and was largely attended by the representative business and professional men of the city. Mr. T. G. Hyman, president of the Chamber of Commerce, presided.

Mr. McCormick discussed the freight rate situation generally, showing that the only satisfactory relief was through the water points, and that water rates and water competition were either a basis for or a very large factor in all rate-making. He said that Wilmington was in the fight with the rest of the State; that the relief demanded was State-wide and that the present proposition of the carriers was an admission of wrongdoing on their part, and was either an attempt to buy their peace at the expense of one part of the State against another; or the railroads hoped to tie the hands of the State so that proper adjustment of intra-State rates and substantial relief to the entire State by fair treatment through rail and water rates at our ports, as Norfolk had, could not be obtained. That the present proposition was a penalizing one, and that when this was considered with the contingencies and uncertainties attached, it was a mere bartering of the State's sovereignty with practically the same problems and perhaps more, confronting us after two years.

The Workings of Travis' Mind.

He did not intend to charge bad faith to any one on the part of the State, but it was hard for him to understand the workings of Chairman Travis' mind when he recommended its acceptance. The railroads seemed to be far away from the deliverances which President Finley and others made in Raleigh last February as to their honesty and justice if they seriously expected the present proposition to be accepted. The present proposition was a practical admission that their whole South Atlantic rate structure was wrong and grossly unfair, and they had as well understand that this was being more thoroughly understood each day and the carrier had as well recognize this fact and begin to correct the evil from the very foundation of the structure.

Mr. Hall discussed the subject along somewhat similar lines, but more particularly from the standpoint of the wholesale grocers. He said that Wilmington stood with the rest of the State in the fight, and would continue to do so as long as it was allowed to do so. Rates were based upon recognition of water traffic today. If the carriers had in the past recognized this fact, why had they at this late date suddenly awakened to the fact that water points should not now be taken into consideration; when the real solution was through water; that the railroads know this and had resolutely set their heads to defeat it. So far as Wilmington was concerned, if the carriers would give her a fair rail and water tariff, the rest of the State need have no fear as to the establishment of steamship lines. He also took up the rights of water points and explained their natural advantages as distributing centers and why the State was vitally concerned in securing the proper recognition of them by the carriers.

Stirring speeches were also made by Hon. Charles R. Thomas, Messrs. C. L. Ives, W. D. McIver, J. A. Bryan and others.

The following resolution offered by Mr. R. A. Nunn, was unanimously adopted and a copy ordered sent Governor Craig immediately.

Newbern's Protest.

"Whereas, the unjust and arbitrary action of the owners of the railroads operating in this State in discriminating against the people of North Carolina continued until it has become a public scandal, and his Excellency, the Governor of North Carolina and the Council of State resolved that the situation was one of those extraordinary occasions in the history of the State which justified the exercise of the Constitutional power to convene the General Assembly in extra session for remedy of existing evils; and, whereas, the Governor in his proclamation stated that the objects of the call were, first, to provide for the people of North Carolina just transportation rates and to adjust the relations between the State of North Carolina an the railroads operating within the territory of the State; and whereas, the Corporation Commission which is vested by the laws of this State with the power and charged with the duty of making reasonable and just railroad rates in the State, and upon complaint as to other rates, charged with the duty of bringing such complaints before the Inter-State Commerce Commission for redress under the laws of the United States, has seen fit in its efforts to acquire justice for the people of North Carolina to receive from the railroads proposals of compromise of the agitation and has on the 19th instant unanimously recommended to the Chief Executive of the State the acceptance of a proposition of the railroads whereby it is claimed that the exorbitant rates heretofore exacted will be reduced somewhat to the advantage of certain sections of the State but offering no relief to other sections, notably Wilmington, Newbern, Washington, Plymouth, Edenton and Elizabeth City, and specifically providing that present rates which have been depressed by water competition shall not be reduced except to make the rates thereto not higher than to the next intermediate point, which proposition is contingent upon uncertain events beyond the control of the State and dependent upon the will of other railroads and as submitted is indefinite and incomplete and purports to give partial and fragmentary relief only and whereas as doubtful and miscalculatory as said proposal is, we are informed that it is submitted upon the condition that the State will accept it as a settlement of all pending differences between the State and the railroads for a period of two years from the time of acceptance;

"Now, therefore, be it resolved, that we, the citizens of Newbern, in mass meeting assembled, do hereby respectfully dissent from the decision and recommendation of the Corporation Commission and protest against the adoption of its report by the Governor of this State, and we humbly petition the General Assembly to refuse to accept the compromise offered by the railroads. And that the Legislature require, by resolution or otherwise, the Corporation Commission to make just and reasonable rates between the eastern and western section of the State and such rates as will not be higher than the rates charged by the carriers for similar service in the inter-State traffic.

"Resolved, further, That we invite all citizens of the State to join us in this protest and petition for that the compromise offered is, in our opinion, unfair and unjust to all the people of the State; the railroads propose to charge the people of North Carolina more than they charge people of other States for the same service; they propose to discriminate between sections of the State; they offer a bait to influential centers and deny relief to us; they propose inadequate, indefinite, uncertain and doubtful relief; itself to abide by the decision of foreign carriers they ignore increase of population, growth of business, natural waterways and those provided by the National government; they propose to use in the future as they have in the past, the property provided in the beginning by the people for their own unjust ends and to the detriment of the people; they propose that the sovereign power of the State shall be used for the inadequate protection of some of the people and for the gross oppression of others; they propose that the members of the General Assembly shall in violation of the Constitution shackle as far as they can the law-making power of the State by bartering away the right to use the governing power in the premises for a term of two years; we protest against the terms of this proposal submitted upon the eve of the meeting of the General Assembly and we fear the consequences of its hasty consideration; we oppose the acceptance of the shadow of the substance; we believe that the power of the State should be exercised in behalf of all the people of the State; we believe that this State with a population of nearly two and a half millions is not helpless and that the wrong which we have so long suffered is not necessarily perpetual; we believe that the railroads have not monopolized all the men of ability and resource and that our power is ample; that existing laws properly enforced will give us relief; that if the present laws are inadequate our State government, Senators and Representatives in Congress, and other citizens now occupying high positions or wielding influence in the State and National governments will be able to achieve our object without abdication of power, surrender of principle, or sacrifice of material rights."

Newbern will be represented in Raleigh today by a large delegation. They have engaged special Pullman for the occasion and each Newbern delegate will wear a "Newbern badge."

WILL MAKE DENIAL.

Long Beach Millionaire Charged With Contributing to Immoralities.

Los Angeles, Sept. 22.—George H. Bixby, the Long Beach millionaire on trial here on charges of having contributed to the delinquency of two girls, will take the stand and announced.

Bixby's battle to shut off from the jury further testimony such as that given against him last week by Cleo Helen Barker, one of his girl accusers, was successful today. Presiding Judge Bledsoe ruled that while other girls might be permitted to go on the stand, they must not testify as to details of their relations with Bixby at the Jonquil resort.

With this understanding, Marie Brown-Levy, complainant in another case pending against the millionaire, was called to testify regarding what she knows of the relations between Bixby and the Barker girl.

Miss Brown-Levy testified she was 18 years old. She said Bixby, under the name of "Mr. King," had been introduced to her by Mrs. Goodman and that she had seen him at the Jonquil Hotel once or twice a week.

A number of girls who formerly were inmates of the Jonquil also were called to the stand. Myrtle O'Dair, 23, identified Bixby as a man she had known as 'Mr. King." She testified the girls at the resort and Mrs. Goodman, always had spoken of him as "the black pearl" because of a gem he wore in his scarf pin.

HER CONDITION QUITE CRITICAL

But Roleta Lady Built Up Her Shattered Nervous System By Taking Cardui, The Woman's Tonic.

Roleta, Tenn.—Mrs Lizzie Perry, of Roleta, whose illness for three years caused her friends much worry makes the following statements for publication:

"I suffered terribly for three years, from sick headache, and was so nervous at times, I could hardly stand it. I had dragging pains, and pains in my side.

Finally, I got the blues so, my memory got bad, and I was hardly able to go.

I wrote you for advice, and after taking three bottles of Cardui, the woman's tonic, I am stronger than ever before, do not have headaches, or those awful pains in my side, and feel like a new person entirely.

I can never thank you enough, for what your medicine has done for me. I believe I would have been in my grave, had it not been for Cardui.

I wish all women who suffer would take Cardui, the woman's tonic, and be happy and healthy."

The success of Cardui, in benefiting sick and ailing women, is due to the fact that it is a building tonic for the nerves, as well as for the physical system. It is composed of purely vegetable ingredients, which act gently and naturally, without bad after-effects Why not try Cardui for your troubles?

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 23.—While Governor Craig will not so state, it is understood that the apprortionment of $10,000 to Davie county and $10,000 to Davidson counties out of the Federal fund of $40,000 for model road construction will be applied to the proposed link of the great inter-State highway from Winston-Salem to Statesville in which there is an alliance between Forsyth, Davie, Davidson and Iredell counties. It is possible that there will be an additional $10,000 to Davie county if there is that much more remaining of the Federal fund after taking care of the turnpike apportionment from Swannanoa Gap to Old Fort to which $10,000 has already been apportioned. The Governor is very much in hopes that the aid given Davidson will spur that county to aggressive road building instead of lagging as the county has in the past. He rewards Davie county for her progress in recently voting $175,000 bonds of road construction.

Governor Craig issued a requisition today for Richard Hanes, who is wanted in Surry county for immoral conduct. The Governor honored a requisition from the Governor of Tennessee for E. S. Livengood being held in Haywood county for the Tennessee authorities.

The Citizen's National Bank building, Raleigh's highest skyscraper, nearing completion, had a fire early this morning that demonstrated the complete fireproof construction of the building.

A barrel of tar and a barrel of turpentine became ignited in some way in a room on the third floor in the southeast section of the building and burned fiercely for some time in spite of the best efforts of the fire department to extinguish the flames. However, the fire fighters did confine the flames to the room in which the fire started and held down the damage to the building to less than $1,000. The fireproof construction of the building was shown up very satisfactorily by the fire. Assistant Fire Chief Chas. Farmer had his hand severely cut while climbing to the third floor from the outside. Heat broke a plate-glass window and glass fell, striking his hand as he climbed.

Dr. Russell Bellamy, of Wilmington, has just had a very satisfactory conference with Governor Craig on the question of encouragement and support on the part of the State for the proposed North Carolina World's Exposition in celebration of the completion of the Panama canal at Smith's Island at the mouth of the Cape Fear river.

The plans are on a large scale. Dr. Bellamy proposes to ask the State to provide $5,000,000 and the counties of the State to raise as much more and the exposition is to open right after the other Panama expositions so as to draw exhibits from them, and after the exposition, the Federal government is to be induced to provide on this beautiful island a permanent home for ex-Presidents, Summer homes for the Presidents, cabinet members and other government officials. A bill has been prepared for introduction in the special session of the Legislature providing the $5,000,000 appropriation and authorizing the counties to extend aid.

It is the season when the politician who pitied "the poor farmer" meets the latter at the bank writing a check for a new auto car.—Atlanta Journal.

EAGER FOR PUBLICITY.

Southern towns are eager for publicity and the fact that practically every city, town and hamlet is anxious to make itself known abroad is strong evidence that their citizens recognize their merits and are convinced of the resources and adaptibilities of their respective sections. It has been said that "the first evidence of a live town is that its people get together to advertise its advantages to the world," but that isn't the first evidence of a live town. It might be "exhibit two" or something like that, for the first evidence of a live town is that a town's people unite to build up their own town themselves. Publicity for their town means that their purpose is to attract others there to assist in promoting the development and growth of the town. That should be the purpose, for it is mighty hard to attract newcomers to a town that has not done something for itself.

When a town's own people erect handsome business houses and attractive homes and establish manufacturing industries that increase the evidences of thrift and enterprise, they will have something to show newcomers who may be induced to come and look the town over. The best way to attract and impress visitors is to make a town look like a veritable hive of industry. When a town's people show their confidence in their own town and give it an air of prosperity through their own energy and enterprise, that is "the first evidence of a live town." In fact, it is the ground work of publicity, for they will have a town that will be worth advertising. Nevertheless, even premature publicity of the right kind has its merits, but its effectiveness depends upon the kind of goods that can be shown to visitors who are attracted by means of publicity. We are reminded of this by the Jacksonville Times-Union, which says this of the quickening towns of Florida:

"Wide-awake Florida towns are now getting out attractive booklets for distribution. The money is subscribed at home, and newspaper men are usually asked to do the writing. Then the committee sends off the money, and articles and the photographs donated to some outside printer, who demands full prices for his labor. About 100,000 of these have already been ordered."

There is not much size to that statement but it has a tremendous meaning. One does not have to read between the lines to see that those "wide-awake Florida towns" should get so wide-awake that they should sit up and take notice of the broad hint thrown out by our esteemed Jacksonville contemporary. It need not be stated that they are not giving their editors and publishers a square deal. One of the first evidences of a live town is the hearty and liberal support of its newspapers. Appreciation of the importance of a home newspaper should be so keen that the editors may feel it as well as be told about it. Editors frequently do more for their town than anybody in it but an ungrateful or unthinking town sends its printing to some other town. There is not much evidence that a town is "wide-awake" when its business men do not prefer to patronize all home industries, "all things being equal" or not. Everybody and everything for the editors, the merchants and the industries that already have made the town what it is and who are there to be always doing it whether newcomers are landed or not.

If it is for sale in your town, buy it there. If it is made in your town, prefer it above everything else. If it has a newspaper, support it by all the patronage you can give it. Patting an editor on the back might make a greasy spot on his Vinegar Hill suit, but by patronizing his establishment so he won't have to wear slit pants is the best way to help the newspaper man to keep himself on his powerful job—powerful in every community, in proportion to its size.

As this refers specifically to Florida towns and their newspaper men, we make no bones of saying that if they should undertake to build a home for their papers, rush up with the equivalent of a cart load o fbricks. The first evidence of a wide-awake town is for the town's people to get them a paper of their own and stick to it through thick and thin.

TALK JUSTIFIED BY DOING THINGS.

"Talk" always precedes action, and it is a sure sign that when people begin to talk up their town and talk for it, either at times or all the time, they believe in it and will sooner or later get enthusiastic over it. Referring to the talk that preceded action at Greensboro the Daily News of that city remarks:

"Recent results in Greensboro seem to justify the good of that period of from two to four years ago when a good majority of the population was engaged in talking about what ought to be done to make this city a more desirable place to live in, and many ideas, both embryo and well developed, were advanced from many minds on many subjects. Sanitation and health, physical beautification of the city, increased industrial facilities, better morals, more religion with practice, better government and a bigger and better Greensboro generally were demanded.

"While all these ideas were being advanced by progressive minds on what ought to be done there came from the various sides a criticism which called for more work and less talk. 'Show us something and we will be with you,' said the practical. This was nothing more nor less than just more talk, and all in all the whole place got to talking, and there became a kind of mental commotion.

"We fancy that period of talking ultimately will be regarded as greater Greensboro in the making, insofar as the formation of a sentiment for a greater city was concerned. At least recent results seem to justify the good of that period, for there has been a reduction of many of those ideas to a practical basis, and a wholesome spirit of co-operation has been underlying all dissensions, whether these be as to variety of ideas or criticisms of theory. From contemplation of possibilities the people have endeavored to dwell in the practical. A big ideal was formed. That ideal will ever be characteristic of the Greensboro mind, and, as is being demonstrated, the Greensboro man will be found working along with that ideal as a guardian angel, continually becoming understood more plainly, continually being wrought out in the institutions which are here being established."

The News then goes on to tell how "talk" at Greensboro resolved itself into concrete action. Ideals were established, movements were set on foot, and the result has been a better, greater Greensboro. That is one of the most enterprising and progressive cities of North Carolina. It has developed into a great industrial city and its growth has been little less than marvelous. Its people engaged in talk till they believed in their city and united in various movements to promote its interests and develop it into a beautiful, prosperous, progressive city.

We cannot recount the various activities and enterprises in Greensboro but we wish to remark that the fine spirit of its people was never more maifest than when they united for good government for Greensboro and for a healthier, more beautiful, more moral city. Industries of various kinds have sprung up at Greensboro and they are giving employment to thousands of people. That industrial development has rapidly increased the population of Greensboro, and it is now one of the State's growing, hustling and important cities. Development there at this time is so marked, that everybody who passes through or stops over in that city gives a boost.

What followed "talk" at Greensboro may follow "talk" at Wilmington, so it is not worth while to say there is too much talk and nothing doing. Talk is really agitation, and without agitation there can be no concensus of action. In fact, Wilmington is experiencing some of the results of talk and agitation. This city is going ahead and is ripe for a greater development. However, we need here more of the Greensboro spirit of cutting out petty contentions and getting together on everything for the good of Wilmington. There is necessity for a union of all Wilmingtonians for good health and city beautification and more earnest promotion of industrial and commercial development. Everybody should believe so strongly in Wilmington that co-operation should take the place of carpings, criticisms, differeces and indifference.

THE CAROLINA PYTHIAN.

The Carolina Pythian comes to The Star this week under the guiding hand of the new editor, Capt. Thos. D. Meares, of Wilmington. His salutatory is graceful and it shows that the new editor is not only a lucid writer but one with a thoughtful and practical turn of mind. He enters the arena with no flourish of trumpets but launches at once into suggestions that indicate a policy which will make the Pythian entertaining as a journal and helpful in promoting the high purposes of Pythianism.

The Star cordially welcomes Editor Meares into the ranks of exalted quill drivers. He does not come within the circle without experience, for when he was just entering upon the threshold of manhood, he was a reporter for The Star of the years gone by. We are glad to see him establishing new fraternal relations with North Carolina journalism and especially in the useful field in which he is to labor in exploiting the noble principles of friendship, charity and benevolence. He is an earnest Pythian and his long official connection with the order will enable him to wield a strong influence in promoting a good thing in a publication that is worthy of one of the largest and strongest of our national fraternities.

The Carolina Pythian is the official organ of the Grand Lodge, K. of P. in North Carolina, and its publication place is Clayton, which can now be said to be the home of North Carolina Pythianism. It is there that the order has erected a beautiful and well regulated home for the care and education of the orphans of Pythians. Architecturally, it is one of the handsomest semi-public institutions in the State, and its picture in this week's Pythian shows that it is well worthy of the Grand Domain of North Carolina.

Wilmington has a peculiar interest in the Carolina Pythian because its editor is a highly esteemed Wilmingtonian and because Mr. G. Herbert Smith, of Acme, another popular Wilmington man, is business manager of the journal. Other members of the staff are Mr. W. W. Willson, authorized agent, Raleigh, and Mr. W. T. Hollowell, treasurer, Goldsboro, two of the foremost Pythians of the State. Editor Meares is the eminent Supreme Master of Exchequer of the order in America, and he has a strong team that assures the Pythian able editorial and business management.

DEATH OF MR. E. D. PEARSALL.

It is painful for us to record the death of Mr. E. D. Pearsall, of Rocky Point, who passed away at 2:50 A. M. Tuesday. His friends all over the State will be sorry to learn of his death, and throughout this portion of North Carolina there will come to his host of friends a sincere sense of sadness that so guileless a man and estimable a citizen has departed this life.

Elsewhere The Star carries an account of the death of Mr. Pearsall, after a prolonged period of bad health. He was a cheerful and patient sufferer, and though he has not seen a well day for the past three or four years we do not remember to have ever heard him complain. On the contrary, he was more like an apostle of sunshine. His greetings were always cordial and his presence ever refreshing. He had an individuality all his own and his quaint contributions to the Star and other papers not only attested his kindly spirit but were always read with interest. He was a Trinity College man and was a well informed and interesting man. He believed in eastern North Carolina and nothing so interested him as to contribute his share in proclaiming its resources. Locally he was known as "The Sage of Rocky Point" and it was an attest of the universal esteem in which he was held that all who knew him regarded him with affection and took kindly to his philosophies.

We note with satisfaction that college presidents in their opening addresses are protesting against the growing tendency to encourage athletic tendencies to such a degree as to take precedence over the pursuit of knowledge. It shows that things are just like they were in our own freshman days, and the feeling is real comfy.

Come South and invest your capital. Southern opportunities are so great that investors can have their choice from among many that appeal to an enterprising man. The question is frequently asked, "Why doesn't the South invest its own capital?" It does, and besides that it borrows capital to invest. However, the South's resources are so great that it offers fine investments for an unlimited amount of carefully invested capital.

In a bulletin issued by Dr. P. P. Claxton, United States Commissioner of Education, he says: "No educational movement in modern times has had more vital relation to the children, to the homes they represent, and to the nation than medical supervision of school children and the general hygienic movement it typifies." Dr. Claxton thus endorses one of the most progressive and beneficial ideas of the times. Education and health is a strong combination in the production of happiness and thrift.

CURRENT COMMENT.

Recorder Jones, of the Charlotte court, is getting at the root of the pistol carrying evil. If it is established in his court that a road sentence is the penalty, instead of a fine, as he says he intends to do, and sticks to it, he is going to take a long step in the direction of breaking up the habit.—Charlotte Observer.

If a South Carolina jury acquits a negro accused of assaulting a white woman we take it that there can be no doubt about his innocence. No sentimental appeal can be made to 12 white men in favor of a negro who may reasonably be suspected of that offense. Yet a negro whom a mob sought to lynch and whom Governor Cole Blease refused to protect has been acquitted. The mob blew down a part of the jail with dynamite, and the Governor refused to call out the militia because he assumed the guilt of a man who had not yet been tried. But the sheriff with great heroism stood off the lynchers, and the trial has proved to the satisfaction of 12 white South Carolinans that the negro was innocent. The fatal defect of Cole Blease's excuses of lynching is that the man attacked by the mob is very often innocent.—Philadelphia Record.

We have no sympathy for the character of the lectures delivered Sunday afternoon in the Charlotte Auditorium. The ministers and better people who had previously given their endorsement to what they supposed to be a good cause—and up to that time the people had no reason to think otherwise—must have suffered inward rebukings for lending even the countenance of their presence to such an occasion. There are reasons that such a lecture as that delivered here yesterday afternoon should be suppressed. It abounded in stories and narrations which no pure-minded man should have inflicted upon him and the pity of it is that in the audience was a host of young boys who, for all we know, may suffer incalculable hurt by reason of the information received at this meeting. Whatever may be our attitude to the general purpose of the Crowley meetings, we have no hesitancy in condemning the character of the Sabbath afternoon lecture. Those who reveled in its tortuous details and horrifying and repulsive utterances reaped shame and shame only.—Charlotte Chronicle.

That North Carolina would have never accepted a proposition which would tie its hands on freight rate legislation is a matter fixed. Recognizing this the railroads, if they really desire their proposals to be considered, should ask only that on points and zones and articles affected their proposition be given a trial so as to see if it will work out in giving justice to North Carilina, furnishing to its cities rates which will allow them to compete with Virginia cities for business. As to any partial agreement being held as an estoppel against legislation seeking justice all along the line this will not be acceptable. Governor Craig is now at work studying the freight rate propositions of the railroads, and has at hand analyses of these made by freight rate experts for him, and pending a full understanding of the offer of the railroads he has not stated his position. That he will in the matter deal with the subject for the best interests of North Carolina is a matter certain. If he finds the reductions offered are worthy of trial for two years he will, without doubt, have it clearly understood that North Carolina will continue with every legal means possible to secure full justice in all matters of freight rates, both inter-State and intra-State.—Raleigh News and Observer.

"CASE OF YOUNG COTTLE" AGAIN

To the Editor of The Star:

Everybody is sorry for Ben Cottle, but is that any reason why the law should not be enforced? The enforcement of the law is the way to keep us from the necessity of being sorry for somebody else in the future, for the certainty of punishment means the prevention of crime.

We would like to remind "A Loving Aunt" that young Cottle was not sent to the roads because he was, or was not, an orphan boy, or a good son, or a hard worker, or a brave man, but because—not as she puts it "He went a little against the law"—but because he flagrantly, repeatedly, continuously and defiantly, after repeated warnings, broke the laws of the State of North Carolina and encouraged others to do so.

WHY HE DOES IT

Druggist J. Hicks Bunting Gives Reasons for Selling at Half Price.

It isn't often that I have faith enough in the medicines put up by other people to be willing to offer to refund the money if it does not cure, said Druggist J. Hicks Bunting to one of his many customers, but I am glad to sell Dr. Howard's specific for the cure of constipation and dyspepsia on that plan.

"The Dr. Howard Co., in order to get a quick introductory sale authorzed me to sell the regular fifty cent bottle of their specific for half price, 25 cents and although I have sold a lot of it, and guaranteed every package, not one has been brought back as unsatisfactory."

I am still selling the specific at half price, although I cannot tell how long I shall be able to do so. Any person who is subject to constipation, sick headache, dizziness, liver trouble, indigestion or a general played out condition, ought to take advantage of this opportunity. If the specific does not cure them, they can come right back to my store and I will cheerfully refund their money.

LEGISLATORS TO RALEIGH

Senator Bellamy and Representative Kellum Already on Ground for Special Session of the Legislature.

In order to be on the ground on the eve of the convening of the special session of the Legislature this morning and to take part in any preliminary skirmishes so as to be better prepared when the questions come up in the Houses for consideration, Senator Marsden Bellamy, of this district, and Representative Woodus Kellum, of this county, left yesterday morning for Raleigh. It is likely that some informal meetings of committees and caucuses were held in Raleigh last night so that the legislators might formulate their ideas and get a clearer conception of the work before them.

Senator Bellamy and Representative Kellum go to Raleigh with their minds not quite made up as to the action they will take on the proposed municipal concurrent board of Wilmington and the changes contemplated in the bill creating the consolidated city and county health department. With regard to the proposed concurrent board advocated by the Chamber of Commerce, a bill creating this office is to be drawn by the special committee of the Chamber of Commerce and after it is approved by the Chamber in special meeting then the document will be sent to Senator Bellamy and Representative Kellum for their consideration. Just what their attitude is on the proposed board is not known. Probably they have not yet made up their minds on the proposition. It is known that there will be opposition to the proposed "second chamber," but just how strong is this opposition remains to be seen. The bill that will be submitted by the special committee will be published in the local newspapers so everyone will have an opportunity to read it and study it before it is sent to Raleigh.

It was reported on the streets yesterday that it had been practically decided that in the event a bill is introduced at the special session creating a concurrent board that it will contain a provision that it must first be ratified by a vote of the people and also that the members are to be elected by the people instead of appointed by the Legislature or the Governor. Whether there is any truth in the report remains to be seen.

It is understood that a legislative bill will be drafted some time this week providing for amendments to the bill passed at the last Legislature consolidating the city and county health departments. It was tentatively decided at the joint conference Saturday afternoon of the Council, Board of Health and Commissioners that there will be no dissolution of the consolidated health department, though several changes in the operation of the department were suggested and will likely be incorporated in the bill. About the only thing that can be said to be settled at this time is the fact that some change will be made in the bill at this session of the Legislature unless the Legislature, at the very beginning, passes a resolution that no local measures will be considered at this extra session. The tentative bill that is to be drawn will be given to the press as soon as it is completed so that the people may know exactly what is proposed and thus be given an opportunity to state any objection which they may have to any of the provisions.

AUTUMN IS HERE.

Wilmington Now Enjoying Crisp Bracing Weather—Warmer Today.

No mistake about it. Autumn is here. Astronomically speaking, yesterday was the time for the Fall season to open, and practically speaking it began three days ago when the clouds faded away and Wilmington experienced its second cold spell. The weather man forecasts warmer weather today for the interior, but there is no likelihood of the temperature's taking much of a rise. The falling temperature of this week came unheralded after a prolonged season of rain, and was gladly welcomed.

It has not been cool enough to cause any physical discomfort, but it has cooled down sufficiently to put straw hats under the ban, and those who had figured on wearing theirs until October 1st have found that they miscalculated. The fellow with straw headgear now feels lonesome as he walks down the street, and soon seeks refuge from staring eyes by getting that Winter hat. The women also have had to discard Summer dress for something warmer.

Autumn days in Wilmington are ideal, neither too hot nor too cold to be comfortable, but just right. A little fire at night helps to make it cozy but those who have not yet made provision for the Winter do not suffer from the cold, if they have no fire. In fact, as one man expressed it yesterday, the fellow who grumbles about the weather we are now having ought to be banished.

CAPE LOOKOUT PROJECT.

Work Will Likely Begin Soon on Breakwater—Cost $3,500,000.

Maj. H. W. Stickle, United States District Engineer, has recently received several communications from Washington regarding the construction of the immense breakwater project at Cape Lookout. As soon as the estimates and recommendations are approved at Washington advertisements for bids will be made, which it is expected will be at an early date.

The estimated cost of the breakwater is $3,500,000 with $800,000 available. It will take something like 1,600,000 tons of stone to complete the two tangents which will form the breakwater. Inside the breakwater will be a calm space sufficiently large to take care of any number of ships which have to seek shelter from storms. It will average about 40 feet from the sea floor to the top, and will extend two feet above mean high water.

CITY GRADED SCHOOLS.

Will Open the First Monday in October—Teachers to Meet.

Word has been received from Mr. John J. Blair, superintendent of the city graded schools, who is at High Point, where he spent the Summer with relatives, that the schools will open for the Fall session on Monday, October 6th, at 9 o'clock. It is expected that Mr. Blair will reach Wilmington within a week or ten days, to make final arrangements for the opening of the schools. The enrollment this year will doubtless be larger than ever before and the facilities will be taxed to provide for all the children who will desire to attend. Mr. Blair announces that on Saturday, October 4th, the teachers in the several schools will meet at their respective buildings for consultation.

MALARIA EXPERT COMING

Dr. Carter, of United States Public Service, Will Visit Wilmington Next Month—Other Places.

Dr. Carter, malaria expert, of the United States Public Health Service, Washington, D. C., as previously announced in The Star, will visit Wilmington some time next month in futherance of the campaign inaugurated in this section of the State to rout the mosquito and thus put an end to the malaria that is so prevalent throughout Eastern North Carolina. Dr. Carter recently spent some days at Newbern and other places in that vicinity. It is through the efforts of Congressman John M. Faison, of the Third District, that Dr. Carter has been secured to visit the points in this State.

Congressman Faison has written a letter to Dr. Chas. T. Nesbitt, county superintendent of health, informing him that Dr. Carter will visit Wilmington in October along with Clinton, Kinston and Jacksonville. Dr. Carter will come some time between the 5th and 15th of October, the exact dates to be announced later.

"I am sending you a number of Malarial Bulletins," said Congressman Faison in his letter, "which I will ask you to mail out to your doctors, mayors of your towns in your section also to your prominent citizens who might be interested in stamping out malaria in their towns and communities. And will ask you to get as many interested in his visit as possible.

"He will spend a day or two in each town and section examining the mosquitoes and breeding places and then lecture at night or day, whichever is most convenient to him, upon the mosquitoes investigated and upon malaria and general sanitation.

"I hope you will get your people thoroughly interested in his visit to your section. His August visit to Eastern North Carolina towns was indeed interesting and instructive to all who saw and heard him and will no doubt help general sanitation much."

MR. D. A. BULLUCK PASSES

Popular Young Druggist Died Last Night at Home of Parents in This City—Funeral Services This Afternoon.

Many friends were deeply grieved last night to learn of the death of Mr. D. Archie Bulluck, son of Dr. and Mrs. D. W. Bulluck, which occurred at the family home, No. 309 North Fourth street, last night at 8:45 o'clock after a long siege of fever. His condition had been critical for several days, but he showed wonderful vitality, and his scores of friends hoped to the last that he might recover. The bereaved family have the tender sympathy of a host of friends in this hour of sorrow.

The funeral will be held this afternoon at 4 o'clock from Grace Methodist church. The interment will be in Oakdale cemetery.

Mr. Bulluck was born in Edgecombe county July 25th, 1881, but in early manhood moved here with his parents. He received his schooling in the public schools of the city, and later went to the University of North Carolina, where he studied for five years, first taking the academic course, and then the course in pharmacy. He graduated in 1901. He was one of the most popular young men at the University, being a member of the Kappa Alpha fraternity, and other organizations.

He returned to Wilmington upon his graduation, and engaged in the drug business here for several years. Three years ago he went to Sumter, S. C., to engage in the drug business, and remained there until he was stricken with his last illness nine weeks ago.

Surviving him besides his parents are one brother, Dr. Ernest S. Bulluck and one sister, Miss Maud Bulluck, both of this city.

He was a most gentle and lovable man, counting his friends by the scores. He was entirely unselfish and walked among men with open hands to the poor, the afflicted and the unfortunate of every class. Bubbling over with humor and always sunny hearted he had a kind word for every brother pilgrim traveling with him over life's pathway. To be kind and thoughtful of others was the law of his life, and he faced death with the calm assurance that he had not made it hard to die by having made it hard for others to live.

With the simple faith of a little child he trusted his Saviour, and when the tide of the mystic sea began to lap his weary feet he was not afraid. Surrounded by his loved ones he passed away quietly and serenely as a child that is lost in slumber.

CROWD GOES TO FLORIDA.

Great Many Take Advantage of Low Rates Offered by A. C. L.

Availing themselves of the extremely low rates offered by the Atlantic Coast Line, about 125 Wilmingtonians left yesterday morning and afternoon for Jacksonville, Tampa and other points of interest in Florida, the tickets being good to return any time up to and including midnight of September 30th. These cheap rates are given by the Coast Line every year and apply from all points on the system in Virginia and North and South Carolina. According to information received at the passenger traffic department of the Coast Line here several hundred people were last night en route to "The Land of Flowers" over the Coast Line. The number leaving Wilmington yesterday is the largest that has ever taken advantage of the annual Fall excursion rates.

WILL VISIT WILMINGTON,

Secretary Josephus Daniels to Make Official Visit Here in Spring.

Hon. Josephus Daniels, Secretary of the Navy, will likely pay Wilmington an official visit next Spring, according to a statement said to have been made by him a few days ago. This point will be included in a number of visits to South Atlantic ports which he expects to make at that time. Needless to say he will receive a warm welcome as he has a host of warm friends in the lower Cape Fear section. An invitation was extended to him to be here Labor Day, but he was forced to decline on account of having engagements elsewhere. It is his intention to make the visit either on the Mayflower or the Dolphin, and he hopes to be able to spend several days here.

DEATH OF MR. E. D. PEARSALL

"Sage of Rocky Point" Passed Away Early Yesterday Morning After Prolonged Illness—The Funeral Today.

The news of the death of Mr. E. D. Pearsall, one of the most widely known citizens of this section, which occurred at his home at Rocky Point yesterday morning at 2:50 o'clock, will be received with deep regret by many friends in this city, and will carry a feeling of sadness to friends in all parts of the State. The funeral will be held this morning at 11 o'clock from Pike Creek Presbyterian church, and the interment will be in the family burying ground.

"Ed" Pearsall, as he was called by all who knew him, had been in feeble health for the past four years, but did not give up his work of rural letter carrier, a work he dearly loved, until last October. He had been quite weak for several months, but retained his accustomed cheerfulness, and his death came as a great surprise even to the members of his family.

For many years Mr. Pearsall had been a correspondent for many papers in the State, and gained quite a reputation as a unique writer. He was a frequent contributor to The Star, and his writings were always read with the greatest interest. After he had retired from active work he spent much time in writing, and within recent months had written a number of letters to The Star which were notable for their spirit of good cheer. Reading them one would not know that he was then upon a bed of affliction.

He was known as the "Sage of Rocky Point," on account of his philosophical temperament. He believed in living close to nature, and not only preached it but practiced it. He spent practically all his life on the farm, and there learned those lessons about life which only nature can teach. He always looked on the sunny side of life as indeed must anyone who lives such a life of usefulness as he did.

He was born February 6th, 1848, near Kenansville, and was, therefore, in the 66th year of his age. He was educated at Bingham School for boys and at Old Trinity College. He was too young to go to the front in the Civil War but was a member of the Home Guard during the latter part of the period of hostilities. He lived on the farm all his life with the exception of a short time spent in traveling for a business house. About ten years ago he became a rural letter carrier, and there was not a more enthusiastic one in the State or the country for that matter.

His last visit to Wilmington was at the last annual meeting of the State Rural Letter Carriers' Association the fourth of last July. Although he had to be brought on a stretcher he came, and was an interested spectator of the whole proceedings. The carriers delighted to honor him for what he had done, and it was indeed a touching tribute that they paid him when they sang several of his favorite hymns, and the chaplain lead the assembly in prayer for his early restoration to health. Those who were there will always remember it.

He was a member of the Rocky Point Methodist church, and was a sincere Christian. There was no guile in his nature—he did not know what deceit was. He was universally loved, and if he had an enemy in the world no one knew it. Whether the sun was shining or clouds darkened the sky his faith was supreme, and he did not worry.

Surviving him besides his wife are four sons, Messrs. T. P., W. W., R. D. and Norwood Pearsall, all of Rocky Point; daughter, Miss Martha Pearsall, of Rocky Point; two brothers, Mr. J. W. Pearsall, of Roanoke, Va., and Mr. B. F. Pearsall, of Kenansville, and one sister, Mrs. A. E. Loftin, of Delgado.

GREEN'S BODY IDENTIFIED.

Coroner's Jury Held Short Session and Took Recess Until Friday.

Two witnesses were examined yesterday by the coroner's jury summoned to inquire into the murder of a negro found north of Hilton Park Monday morning, after which a recess was taken until Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock, subject to the call of Coroner John J. Fowler. The witnesses examined were John Green, father of Alonzo Green, and his brother, Ed Green. As stated in yesterday's Star the name of the murdered negro was Alonzo Green.

John Green testified that the body of the negro found was that of his son, Alonzo Green, aged 22 years, and that he had not seen him in two years and three months. About two years ago he got into trouble for housebreaking, and after trial was sentenced to serve four years on the roads. In some way he made his escape about a year ago. He did not know of any enemies that he had or that he was friendly with any woman. He lived at his father's home until his conviction.

He did not know the particulars of the charge brought against Alonza, though he thought that the owner of the house that he was alleged to have broken into was Grady. Bobbie Shell and D. Russ were Alonza's particular friends before he got into trouble, but he did not know that they had seen him since.

Ed Green testified that his brother, Alonzo Green, came by his house, No. 1105 Campbell street, Sunday night between 7 and 8 o'clock, and that he told him to go on by and that he could not come in. His reason for this action, he said, was because he had once threatened his wife with a knife. Sunday night was the first time that he had seen him since he went to the roads. He went on by, and he did not see him again. He saw the body at Davis' undertaking establishment Monday, and identified it as that of his brother. There was no one with him at the time he came to his house Sunday night, he said.

Sheriff Cowan and the police are at work on the case, and have some clues which they hope will lead to something definite within a day or so. Should any new features of the case develop, Coroner Fowler will call the jury together to act on the matter.

An Altercation Yesterday.

H. C. Spooner, the peanut man, whose stand is in front of the Airdome, yesterday had some trouble with M. L. Jass, a young boy, in which the boy charged that he was knocked down by him. Spooner denied this, but said that he had ordered Jass to stay off the property, and when he came back he pushed him, causing him to fall to the ground. Officer G. W. Bullard arrested them both on a charge of engaging in an affray. They were recognized for their appearance before the Recorder today.

DR. CHAS. W. STILES RETURNS

Distinguished Expert Back From Speech-Making Tour in Alabama. Talks of Attacks by Anti-Hobson Press.

Dr. Charles W. Stiles, professor in charge of the United States Marine Hospital here, has just returned to the city after a four weeks' tour of points in this State and Alabama where he delivered addresses on public health.

For two weeks he campaigned the northeastern part of North Carolina with Congressman John H. Small, giving 15 addresses on sanitation, prevention of malaria, typhoid, tuberculosis, and on allied topics.

Then he went to Alabama for two weeks and campaigned the western part of the State with Congressman R. P. Hobson, delivering in 11 days 21 addresses on various public health subjects.

Some of the anti-Hobson newspapers tried to make it appear that Dr. Stiles and Miss Julia Lathrop were out on a political campaign for Capt. Hobson and a report went abroad that President Wilson had ordered them to Washington and that they were to be reprimanded because of "pernicious political activity." Finally, one of the anti-Hobson papers published what is said to have been a very distorted account of one of Dr. Stiles' addresses on the health of the Southern Farm Women and the anti-Hobson press is said to be running now very bitter editorials against him for what he is alleged to have said and intimated, and they are criticising Capt. Hobson severely for bringing Dr. Stiles to Alabama.

When Dr. Stiles was interviewed at the Marine Hospital last night in regard to the matter, he stated that the Hobson trip was the third of a series that Capt. Hobson had arranged for his district. One expedition had dealt especially with plant life on the farm, another with animal life, and this with human life; there was nothing of a political nature in the trip and the subject of politics was not discussed, he said. So far as the alleged "recall" was concerned, Dr. Stiles said that his only knowledge of it was what he had read in the newspapers and despite the report he had remained in Alabama the full time, according to the original plans. He was not worried over the Presidential reprimand, which, according to the anti-Hobson press, is in store for him; on the contrary, he is now planning two somewhat similar, though less extensive trips, in two Congressional districts in North Carolina, at the request of their respective Congressmen.

Square Deal for Women.

When asked about the statements he is alleged to have made in regard to Southern women, Dr. Stiles said that the criticisms passed upon what he had said seemed to him simply part of the anti-Hobson attacks. "For years past," he said, "I have consistently maintained and I still maintain that the American woman is not being given the square deal when it comes to protection of herself and her children against preventable diseases and that the Southern woman is living under a greater medical handicap, because of conditions, than that under which her Northern and her Western sisters live. Further, I have no hesitation in stating that the Southern woman does not receive so good public health protection as do her Northern and Western sisters. For one, I demand for the Southern woman and her children, especially for those living on farms, the same health protection that women and children in other parts of the country enjoy.

"This protection should consist of (1) better sanitation to prevent the soil pollution diseases; (2) better protection against malaria; (3) enforcement of anti-spitting ordinances with better protection against tuberculosis; (4) greater consideration of women, especially in respect to hard physical labor; because of other strains upon them, (5) greater restrictions on midwives; (6) full-time local or county health officers; (7) greater harmony in public health work; (8) larger appropriations for and more moral and active support of the State, county and city health machinery. This, in brief, is a summary of what I said in Alabama, and until the Southern States give to the Southern women in all or most of these respects a protection corresponding to the protection women and children receive elsewhere, the Southern woman, especially the Southern farm woman, will continue as she is today in an average state of health that is not as good as it should be and not so good as the average woman, especially the average farm woman, enjoys in other parts of the country. There is not the slightest question in regard to the matter, the American woman, upon whom falls the burden when there is sickness in the family, is not getting a square deal when compared with the English, the French, and the German woman, nor is the Southern woman getting a square deal when compared with the women in other parts of the United States.

Good Will Come of Attacks.

"I have no apology to make to the anti-Hobson press for anything I said and I do not retract anything I said. On the whole, it seems very probable that the bitter attacks some of the Alabama papers are now making upon me will result in good, for they will give some of the men something to think about. The attacks do not worry me in the slightest. In fact, they remind me of water on a duck's back."

When asked what Congressional districts in North Carolina he expected to visit next, Dr. Stiles replied that he had received word from Washington that two Congressmen had requested that he be detailed to speak in their districts, but he had not yet looked over his mail and hence did not know whether the Congressmen had made any announcement about it. From the standpoint of official courtesy he would prefer to have the announcement emanate from Washington.

The last three weeks of the tour just completed were under the handicap of two broken ribs, but the fractures are doing well.

DEATH OF AGED OPERATOR.

With Western Union for 54 Years—Manager in Wilmington Years Ago.

Mr. J. W. Brown, who was with the Western Union Telegraph Company for over 50 years, entering the service as messenger boy and retiring as manager in 1911, died at his home in Augusta, Ga., Tuesday night, September 16th following a stroke of paralysis on the preceding Sunday. He was an uncle of Mr. Alfred H. Yopp, of this city, who was at his bedside when he died. Mr. Brown had lived in Augusta since 1870 and was one of the most popular and highest esteemed citizens of that city. The Augusta Herald in a column sketch of his life speaks of him as being a man against whom no voice was ever raised.

He was born in 1847 near Wilmington, and in 1859 at the age of 12 years he entered the service of the Western Union here as a messenger boy. At the same time he began mastering the Morse code, and soon became an expert operator, and at the age of 17 he was manager of the Wilmington office. During the Civil War he was frequently on the battlefield with his instrument. He was attached to Gen. Bragg's staff, and was with him at the fall of Fort Fisher. At the close of the war he went to Washington, D. C., where he spent several years before going to Augusta. In 1873 he was married to Miss Virginia Rhodes, who survives him, together with one son and one daughter.

In 1911 on account of his extreme age he resigned as manager of the Augusta office, but so highly was he regarded by the officials of the company that he was retained as adviser with a desk in the office. He was greatly devoted to his work, and it is stated that after his retirement he still visited the office every day, and mingled with the employes.

Mr. Dolph Robinson, who is well known in Wilmington and has many friends here, now located at Charlottesville, Va., as manager of the Western Union at that point, is a nephew of the late Mr. Brown. Mr. Robinson was unable to attend the funeral services on account of the distance and the rush of business in the Charlottesville office.

THE RECORDER'S COURT.

Several Up for Exceeding Speed Limit in City—Other Cases.

The Recorder had a light docket yesterday which was disposed of in short order. W. D. Bornemann, a young white man, was taxed with the costs for exceeding the speed limit while riding a motorcycle. Judgment was left open in a case against Arthur Hewlett, another young white man, for violating the speed limit while runing an automobile. Jim Davis, colored, charged with a similar offense, was discharged.

T. E. Campbell, white, submitted to a charge of gambling, and judgment was suspended upon payment of the costs. Oscar Herring, colored, was fined $25 and the costs for assaulting his wife, and $5 and the costs for disorderly conduct. His wife was fined $5 and the costs for disorderly conduct. Walter Jones, white, paid $5 and the costs for disorderly conduct.

The case against Herbert Mason, white, charged with the embezzlement of $15, was continued until Thursday on account of the illness of Wm. J. Bellamy, Esq., one of the attorneys in the case. The case against Ed Douglas, charged with assaulting Mary Henry, colored, with a lamp, was continued until September 30th on account of inability of Mary Henry to be in court.

Hooray! Baby To Rule the House

No Longer Do Women Fear The Greatest of All Human Blessings.

It is a joy and comfort to know that those much-talked-of pains and other distresses that are said to precede child-bearing may easily be avoided. No woman need fear the slightest discomfort if she will fortify herself with the well-known and time-honored remedy, "Mother's Friend."

This is a most grateful, penetrating, external application that at once softens and makes pliant the abdominal muscles and ligaments. They naturally expand without the slightest strain, and thus not only banish all tendency to nervous, twitching spells, but there is an entire freedom from nausea, discomfort, sleeplessness and dread that so often leave their impress upon the babe.

The occasion is therefore one of unbounded, joyful anticipation, and too much stress can not be laid upon the remarkable influence which a mother's happy, pre-natal disposition has upon the health and fortunes of the generation to come.

Mother's Friend is recommended only for the relief and comfort of expectant mothers, thousands of whom have used and recommend it. You will find it on sale at all drug stores at $1.00 a bottle. Write to-day to the Bradfield Regulator Co., 130 Lamar Bldg., Atlanta, Ga., for a most instructive book on this greatest of all subjects, motherhood.

Into Handsome Offices.

The Navassa Guano Company, one of Wilmington's largest and most important manufacturing enterprises of which Mr. E. T. Taylor is president, was engaged yesterday in moving to its handsome new offices, which will occupy the entire eighth floor of the Atlantic Trust and Banking Company's skyscraper at Front and Market streets. The company will be delightfully located, and the offices are easily reached by a modern, up-to-date elevator.

Reversing Things

The usual custom is to mark down, cut prices, sell at a sacrifice at the CLOSE OF THE SEASON—but the Big Store of

are going to do just the opposite this time.

Among the New Fall Garments purchased we have an extraordinary large line of $17.50 Coat Suits for Ladies that we purchased at a remarkably low price. There are too many of this one grade of Coat Suit for us to carry. Therefore, we are going to make the opening price on this line of goods what the closing price usually is.

During this week we will sell 78 of these suits for $11.25.

New Fall Goods, fresh and beautiful, are beginning to flood our store. The ocean steamers are bringing them; the freight trains are rolling them steadily to our doors, and the express companies are pouring them in morning, noon and night.

Come and have a look. You will find it both pleasant and profitable.

LANIER-STEPHENS WEDDING YESTERDAY AFTERNOON.

A pretty wedding was solemnized yesterday afternoon at 5:45 o'clock at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Leftwich, No. 515 Chesnut street, when Miss Myrtle Lee Stephens, of this city, became the bride of Rev. Raymond Ray Lanier, of Kipling, Harnett county, the officiating minister being Rev. Dr. J. H. Foster, pastor of the First Baptist church.

The vows were said in the living room in front of an improvised altar which was banked with beautiful goldenrods and ferns. As Mrs. W. B. Muse played softly the familiar strains of Mendelssohn's Wedding March the bridal party entered the room in the following order: Little Miss Nancy Bowman and Master Geo. E. Leftwich, Jr., who carried baskets of pretty flowers; the groom and his best man, Dr. W. A. Bridges, of Fairmont; the bride with her maid of honor, Miss Allye White, of this city.

The bride was dressed in a handsome brown traveling suit with hat and veil to match, and the maid of honor was gowned in white crepe de chine over pink messaline.

Following the impressive ceremony a reception was tendered the bridal couple at the home of Mrs. Leftwich. They received the felicitations of their friends after which they left for the union station to take the 6:45 train for Louisville, Ky., where the groom will take up his studies in the Southern Theological Seminary.

In the reception room which was prettily decorated there were on display many handsome presents consisting of silverware, cut glass, china and other articles.

The bride is a native of Harnett county but has lived in Wilmington for several years where she has made a host of friends by reason of her loveable and charming traits of character. She has been an active worker in the First Baptist church, and during the past year was secretary of the Woman's Missionary Union of the Wilmington Association. The groom is also a native of Harnett county, and graduated last Spring at Wake Forest College. He will continue his studies at the Southern Theological Seminary at Louisville, Ky. He is a young Baptist minister of splendid parts, and has bright prospects for a most successful career.

DR. RANKIN PRESENTS MATTER.

Inadvertently Fails to Notify Local Men of Health Meeting.

Yesterday Mr. M. S. Willard, chairman of the County Board of Health, received a telegram from Dr. W. S. Rankin, secretary of the State Board of Health, stating that he had inadvertently laid aside the letter recently sent him by Mr. Willard asking that he and Dr. Nesbitt be allowed to go before the State Board and present fully the local health situation. Dr. Rankin's telegram read as follows:

"Your letter of the 20th and telegram of even date received. Letter of 20 overlooked on desk until too late to reach you. Will make full statement of your situation to board, sending you copy of my remarks. Regret oversight, and take full responsibility of failure of notification."

As the meeting was held yesterday it was too late upon receipt of the telegram, which was received at 11 o'clock, for Mr. Willard and Dr. Nesbitt to get to Raleigh for the meeting. In accordance with the telegram it is presumed that Dr. Rankin set forth the reasons which these gentlemen give for wanting a full investigation.

Relic of the Long Ago.

While excavating yesterday for the Macomber's culvert, at 14th and Market streets, workmen for Mr. W. L. DeRosset, the contractor, unearthed portions of the old Wilmington and Newbern plank road, that used to extend out that way. The timbers were nine feet under ground and yesterday were found in a remarkable state of preservation. This old plank road is closely identified with the earlier history of Wilmington, and some very interesting reminiscences might be prepared by some one qualified to write them.

LOCAL DOTS.

—Justice Harriss yesterday fined Henry Armstrong, colored, $10 for being disorderly near Delgado. He was unable to pay it and went to the roads for 30 days in default.

—Anna Held and company will be the attraction at the Academy of Music tonight. Theatre-goers are looking forward with much pleasurable interest to the appearance here of this noted actress and her co-stars.

—Yesterday at noon was the time announced for bids to be opened for the fire station property at Sixth and Castle streets, but as no bids were received it was decided to make another try at it Thursday at noon.

—By deed filed for record yesterday Mrs. Sudie E. Herbst transfers to Geo. T. Hewlett and Addie H. Hewlett, for $10 and other considerations, 6.2 acres in Masonboro township, the same being corner of lot 1 of the B. M. Wilson farm.

—A box belonging to Constable Davis was lost by a drayman yesterday at Fourth and Nun streets. The box was marked with the name and address of Mr. Davis, and he will be glad to call and get it, if anyone will tell him where it is.

—Chief of Police Williams yesterday issued strict orders to all policemen to arrest any person found skating on the sidewalks. Small children will be advised by the officers, but if old enough to know better, they will have to face the Recorder henceforth.

—Postmaster Green stated yesterday that the contract for painting and making other improvements in the interior of the postoffice had been awarded to Mr. J. E. Hatch, of this city, the lowest bidder. The cost will be in the neighborhood of $1,700. All of the old paint will be removed, and painted in imitation mahogany.

—City Council will meet in regular weekly session this morning at 10 o'clock. This will be the first meeting since the Chamber of Commerce adopted resolutions asking for the creation of a second chamber to act as a sort of check on the Council and it is likely that the members of the body will have something to say on the proposal of the commercial body.

PRIVATE BRANCH SYSTEM.

Western Union Installs More Phones to Facilitate Business.

The Western Union Telegraph Company has recently installed in the Wilmington office a private branch telephone system, which will greatly facilitate the handling of business through this office. Connecting this private exchange with the city exchange of the Southern Bell Telephone Company are five separate lines. The value of this number of lines is obvious. It is seldom that five persons are telephoning to the office at the same time, hence a patron desiring to get the office will probably never be told by central, "The line is busy." The result is that business can be handled very expeditiously and it is stated that a person can telephone a message from his office to the Western Union and a minute later it may be delivered on the floor of the Cotton Exchange in New York, this taking into account the time required to relay from the telephone to the telegraph in the local office. There is a telephone on practically every desk in the Western Union office and these are connected with the private exchange. Under the very capable management of Mr. Theo. B. Kingsbury, Jr., who is a Wilmington boy and greatly liked here, the business of the Western Union is growing rapidly and this new addition to the office will greatly aid in expediting business committed to its care.

LEAVE FOR STATE CAPITAL.

Score of Prominent Business Men Go to Rate Conference.

In a special Pullman chartered for the occasion a score of prominent Wilmington business men leave this morning on the 3:40 train for Raleigh to attend the rate conference there today. They will return tonight. They have gone for the purpose of seeing that Wilmington and other eastern towns get a "square deal" in the proposed settlement of freight rates.

Mr. J. Allan Taylor, chairman of the committee going to Raleigh, stated last night when asked what he thought of Mr. Travis' statement that only the unthinking or misinformed would object to the proposed settlement by the railroads that so far as he was concerned that he had studied the proposal carefully, and that in his opinion any man who was willing to penalize eastern North Carolina towns in the way that this settlement does, was unfit to be chairman of the State Corporation Commission.

CAUGHT BY SHARK HOOK.

Mr. John Turner Suffered Painful Injury at Wrightsville Last Night.

While one of a crowd of fishermen at the Seashore Hotel pier at Wrightsville Beach was engaged in bringing in a shark last night shortly before 10 o'clock, Mr. John Turner, of this city, was painfully hurt in the back of his head by having a large shark hook thrust three-fourths of an inch into the scalp. One of the fishermen in his enthusiasm to get a shark made a throw with his line, but unfortunately the hook was caught in Mr. Turner's head instead of going into the water. Mr. Turner had to let the hook remain in his scalp until he could get to the city at 11:30 o'clock, a total period of two hours and 10 minutes. Dr. J. C. Wessell was notified and met him upon his arrival and cut the hook out. While painful, no serious results are feared.

FALL REUNION OF MASONS.

Wilmington Scottish Rite Masons Will Celebrate in October.

Official announcement has been made of the Fall reunion of the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite of Freemasonry, Orient of North Carolina, which will be held in Wilmington beginning October 13th and continuing through four days. An attractive pamphlet of 20 pages has been issued giving full details of the approaching session, and is now being mailed to all the members and prospective candidates. It gives a complete history of the order from its founding and contains much valuable information.

Funeral of Young Child.

The funeral of the little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur R. Dosher, whose death occurred Sunday night at their Summer home at Southport, was held yesterday morning at 11 o'clock from the residence of Mrs. Dosher's mother, Mrs. Carrie Gardner, No. 423 South Fifth street, conducted by Rev. G. T. Adams, pastor of Fifth Street Methodist church, assisted by Rev. Dr. J. M. Wells, pastor of the First Presbyterian church. The services were attended by many friends, and there was a profusion of beautiful floral designs. A quartette composed of Mrs. J. L. Davis, Mrs. E. O. Ellis and Messrs. S. M. McCall and Chas. Dushan, with Miss Camille Fleet as pianist, sang sweetly several selections. The interment was in Oakdale cemetery.

..Theatrical..

Traveling on its own special train of Pullmans and 60-foot scenic cars, and with its own orchestra, the Anna Held All-Star Variete Jubilee will reach Wilmington this afternoon, and this brilliant attraction, made up of the highest salaried and most notable of vaudeville stars, will hold the boards at the Academy of Music tonight. The company numbers about three scores and is said to give a magnificent production.

There is not one star, but about a dozen of them, and it is the greatest show of its kind outside of New York. It has been some time since Wilmington has had a visit from such a notable star as Anna Held and never before has it been visited by such a galaxy at one time. Indications point to a large and fashionable audience tonight. Seats are now selling at J. Hicks Bunting's drug store.

This big and great company to be seen at the Academy of Music tonight is believed by John Cort, its producer, to be the epitome and climax of fine light entertainment, as it is now expressed and demanded of the American stage.

"The Deep Purple" Twice Saturday.

Having demonstrated through his "Alias Jimmy Valentine," his ability to "come back", after the "Heir to the Hoorah" and "Salomy Jane." Paul Armstrong has now proven his ability to "stay back". His latest play, "The Deep Purple," which he wrote in collaboration with Wilson Mizner, was one of the big successes of the last metropolitan season, and is to be seen at the Academy of Music twice Saturday.

"The Deep Purple," in brief, is a play of New York's underworld. Blackmailers and confidence men are in evidence from the first curtain to the last. It need not be said that characters such as these will receive a different treatment at Armstrong's hands than is generally accorded them on the stage. There are two points that generally characterize an Armstrong play. The first of these is his success in making his characters carry conviction. He has the knack of carrying real human beings to the other side of the footlights.

Seats for both matinee and night will go on sale at J. Hicks Bunting's drug store Friday morning at 8:30 o'clock.

Warner Feature at Bijou.

Today rolls around another one of those notable, costly and simply great special features at the popular Bijou. A superb, brilliant three-reel release, "A Daughter of the Confederacy". It is a drama of the War Between the States, of course, and it is the most thrilling film ever manufactured. The battlefield scenes are especially graphic and exciting and in these scenes hundreds and hundreds of soldiers take part. Throughout the story runs a love thread that is most fascinating. It is the most mammoth story ever flashed on a canvas and it takes three big reels to tell it. The Bijou considers itself lucky in obtaining the film and Wilmington people should deem themselves fortunate in having a theatre with as much enterprise as the Bijou, which holds the exclusive right to this city for the big Warner features. This is not all today at the Bijou, by any means. Two other notable films will be on tap, "The Millionaire and the Goose", and "The Amateur Burglar", and the same old 5-cent price will remain.

Swell Menu at Grand.

The Grand has four of the swellest and biggest of films on today, and included in the notable offering is a special two-reels release, Essanay's "The Power of Conscience," which is a stirrer and a beautiful story of life in the mines and in a quaint village and it is a great novelty. A fine cast will be seen in the film, which, of course, will add greatly to its charm. It is one of the most interesting and greatest of all special releases and comes to the cozy, handsome Grand fresh off the bat. Two of the funniest pictures ever conceived of are also stars today. One is Kalem's latest laughter outburst, "Fool Luck", which will cause the audience to roar and the other is the sensational comedy triumph, "Deceiving Uncle," Just how Uncle gets deceived and what happens make up howls for the onlookers. The Grand is certainly the popular spot these days and is playing to huge crowds, both afternoon and night. It is ever comfortable. All for the little 5c, afternoon and night.

Detroit, Sept. 23.—William Houlihan, known by the police of many cities, pleaded not guilty today before the local United States commissioner on a charge of having tampered with Canadian money, by changing serial numbers of bills which the police believe were part of the $372,000 stolen from the Bank of Montreal branch in New Westminster, B. C., more than a year ago. He was remanded to jail with bail fixed at $10,000. Houlihan had $486 in bills in his possession when arrested Saturday.

ADDITIONAL APPOINTMENTS.

Marine Hospital Adds Five Young Ladies to Its Staff.

Announcement was made yesterday that the Marine Hospital had added to its staff the following young ladies: Misses Katie Lou Meredith, Florence Hawkins, Katharine Faison, Gladys Taylor and Julia Faison, all of Wilmington. These young ladies had expected to teach school this Winter, and had taken special training for that work. When Dr. Stiles decided to increase the force conducting the medical inspection of school children, he obtained from the local authorities a list of the names of a number of the Wilmington substitute teachers.

These were forwarded to Washington with recommendation that five be selected to help him with the work. The five named above were chosen. The new appointees will visit the schools, and prepare certain portions of the schedules, such as the names, addresses, grades, ages, height, weight, and some other data that does not call for medical trainiag. They will also help Dr. Cannon with some portions of the mental tests, and will aid in tabulating the results. Three of the appointments take effect immediately, and the others early in October.

CONFESSES MURDERED FATHER.

Youth Tells Officers of His Horrible Crime, Alleging Cruelty.

Greenville, Ala., Sept. 23.—Essick Gibson, 16 years old, has confessed to the murder of his father, Alex Gibson, at his home near here, according to officers who yesterday arrested young Gibson and placed him in jail here.

The boy is said to have declared he crept into his father's bed room and crushed the sleeping man's skull. Then he closed the door, locking a little dog in the room with the dead body.

Young Gibson, according to the alleged confession, then went to his brother's home and told his brother of the crime, requesting that he be allowed time to make his escape. A neighbor is said to have discovered the body several days after the crime had been committed. The body was badly mutilated.

Officers say the boy explains his crime by charging his father with cruelty.

BLUES GUESTS OF WHITES

Delightful Informal Banquet at the Armory of the W. L. I. Last Night—Fort Caswell Officers Present.

In honor of the division temporarily known as the Blues by whom they were outclassed in a recent contest for new members, the other section designated as the Whites delightfully entertained the entire company of the W. L. I. at the armory last night. It was in the nature of an informal banquet and no social event at the armory in recent years has proved quite so enjoyable. Besides members of the company there were present a number of officers from Fort Caswell, officers from the Seminole and members of the Reserved Corps.

Capt. E. A. Metts, commander of the company, which officially is known as the Second Company of the Coast Artillery Corps, North Carolina National Guard, was toastmaster and presided over the affair in his usual happy style. The supper began at 9 o'clock and a most enjoyable supper it was, too. Following the supper addresses were made and it was near the midnight hour when the enjoyable affair cam to an end.

A very pleasing incident was the presentation of a silver waiter to Capt. Tooter, of the 79th Company, U. S. A., stationed at Fort Caswell, by Capt. Metts, as a token of the appreciation of the company for the interest and courtesies shown the W. L. I. boys by Captain Tooter during the encampment at the fort this Summer. Captain Tooter was the member of the regular army in charge of the Wilmington company. In accepting the gift Captain Tooter made a most interesting talk in course of which he praised most highly the W. L. I. boys for the fine record made by them while in camp and assured them that it gave him great pleasure to be able to make report of their splendid showing. He also expressed to the company his thanks for the gift.

Talks were also made by President L. B. Orrell, of the W. L. I. association; Lieut. Ljungstdt, Lieut. Farley, of the Seminole; Lieut. Stovall, of Fort Caswell; Lieuts. Cantwell and Lynch, of the W. L. I.; Lieut. Smith, of the Seminole; Lieuts. Clay and Stanley, of Fort Caswell; Capt. Rob Sweet, of the Reserved Corps; Sergeant O'Neill, of the W. L. I., and others.

The committee in charge of arrangements for the event last night was composed of Sergeant W. A. Peschau, chairman; Messrs. I. B. Rhodes, J. Q. Swann and Richard Westbrook.

THE CAROLINA PYTHIAN.

The First Issue Under Editorship of Wilmingtonian is Out.

The first number of the Carolina Pythian under the editorship of that ardent Pythian and accomplished and versatile writer, deep thinker, and all round well informed man, Capt. Thos. D. Meares, of Wilmington, was issued from Clayton, N. C., yesterday. It is a most attractive and readable publication, as was to have been expected with Capt. Meares at the helm, and it will doubtless be read with great interest by the Pythians throughout the State, for under the new plan of publication the paper will be sent into every Pythian home in North Carolina, the first issue amounting to nearly 10,000 copies. The paper is to be paid for by the subordinate lodges in the State, hence there will be no subscription price to individual members of the order. Heretofore the paper has been published in Charlotte. From now on it will be issued from Clayton, where is established the orphanage of the order in this State. At present the paper is printed by contract in Goldsboro, but later it is proposed to establish a printing office at the orphanage and print the paper there.

MR. ARTHUR H. MYERS.

Former Wilmington Boy Who Is Among the "Who's Who" in N. Y.

The Brooklyn, N. Y., Citizen publishes daily a department headed, "Who's Who in Brooklyn," and a recent number contains a fine half-tone likeness of Mr. Arthur H. Myers, about whom it writes:

"As a resident of Columbia Heights, with property interests in that section, Arthur H. Myers takes a great interest in the improvement of that part of the borough, and is an active member of the Brooklyn Heights Improvement Association. Mr. Myers is a thirty-second degree Mason, a member of Anglo-Saxon Lodge No. 137, F. and A. M., Aurora Consistory and Kismet Temple.

"Mr. Myers' hobbies are golf and breeding thorough-bred poultry for exhibition. He is president of Lake Ronkonkoma Golf Club, a member of the Crescent Athletic Club, president of the American Buff Wyandottes Club, and editor of a poultry magazine. He is considered an expert in poultry breeding.

"He was born in old New York City, on December 6th, 1874, the son of George and Mary Post Myers. He was educated at Trinity Prep. N. C. He is secretary-treasurer and manager and is financially interested in the Standish Arms Realty Co.

"He married Fannie Oswald Bradley at Savannah, Ga., on February 15th, 1904, and has one child, Arthur H., Jr. His town residence is at No. 169 Columbia Heights. He has a country home at Lake Ronkonkoma, L. I."

SPAIN TO BE REPRESENTED.

Country Will Take Part in Panama Celebration at 'Frisco.

Madrid, Spain, Sept. 23.—Count Alaro de Romanones, the Spanish premier, informed the Associated Press today that Spain would participate officially in the Panama-Pacific Exposition at San Francisco in 1915. He said he had returned from San Sebastian, especially to preside over the meeting of the cabinet this afternoon at which the decision to participate probably would be voted. The necessary funds are to be provided by a special law to be introduced in the Spanish parliament. The decision to participate, it is understood, was through the influence of King Alfonso who particularly desired to see Spain represented.

GREAT MAJESTIC RANGES

ALL THIS WEEK

Everything Cooked is Served to Those Present.

Prof. Wulff will give lectures on the art of "Economical and Scientific Cooking" at our store at 2:30 to 5:30 P. M. Don't miss a single day, and bring your friends. If you are not the proud possessor of a Great Majestic Range, these lectures will prove just as interesting. Every lady in the city should attend. We will give you with every MAJESTIC RANGE sold this week a set of ware valued at $8.00. Commencing Monday, September 22nd.

THE GREAT
MAJESTIC
RANGE
Isn't it the truth?
Every housewife spends by far the most of her time in the kitchen, and least of her time in the parlor, yet, it's surprising, how many have a $500.00 piano in the parlor and a cheap, worn-out cook stove in the kitchen.
Now, is your kitchen a pleasant place for you, or does that old, worn-out range or stove give you as much trouble as ever? If so, why not eliminate all this worry, bother and needless expense by putting in a
MAJESTIC
THE RANGE WITH A REPUTATION
and thus insure perfectly-cooked meals for the folks, plenty of hot water always, no repairs to fuss over, besides having a range that adds to the appearance of your kitchen.
Isn't it worth looking into? Why not to-day

COTTON MARKET WAS NERVOUS

Finally Steady, However, at Net Advance of From 16 to 21 Points. Legislation at Washington Being Watched.

New York, Sept. 23.—The cotton market was extremely nervous and unsettled during today's trading and fluctuations were irregular. In a general way there seemed to be heavy realizing by old longs, including some of the bigger interests, while houses with foreign and domestic trade connection were among the prominent buyers.

Much of the scattering business was supposed to be in the way of evening up accounts, pending some definite action by Washington on the cotton futures tax provisions of the tariff bill, which private reports said would come before the conference tomorrow. Reports of an improved spot demand helped prices in the late trading and the market was finally steady, at a net advance of from 16 to 21 points.

The opening was firm, at an advance of 12 to 17 points on the relatively strong showing of Liverpool and reassuring Washington reports as to legislative prospects. The Western belt forecast for unsettled weather, with showers, or rain, and lower temperatures, contributed to the early buying movement and prices worked 18 to 21 points above the closing figures of last night inte in the morning, with December selling at 13.48, or within four points of yesterday's high records. Liverpool was quite a big buyer on this advance, but was supposed to be covering the short end of old straddles rather than taking a fresh long interest, and after the close of the English market demand from this source tapered off. The market then appeared more sensitive to scattered realizing or liquidation, and following rather a more favorable weekly weather report than expected, prices sold off to within 8 or 9 points of last night's closing figures. Several of the prominent local spot houses were good buyers on this decline, however, and the market closed within three or four points of the best, on the active positions. Late reports from New Orleans said there was a better spot demand, and while crop complaints from the South were not quite so numerous today, night temperatures were said to be too low for any immediate plant development. The eastern belt forecast was for generally fair and warmer weather. Liverpool reported small offerings and free continental buying.

Spot cotton, steady. Middling uplands, 13.60; do. gulf, 13.85; no sales.

Futures closed steady.

DRUMMER STABS DRUMMER.

Mysterious Affair at Fayetteville—Jeff D. Sessoms' Fine Crops.

Fayetteville, N. C., Sept. 23.—In a difficulty last night in some hotel in the city, which one is not known, one traveling man stabbed another, but whether the wound was serious could not be learned. Presumably it was not, as no wounded man was taken to any hospital. The drummer who did the stabbing was arrested, and gave bond.

Mr. Jeff D. Sessoms, of Stedman, has one of the best crops of cotton in this section. A large field has a stand of the weed that will average 200 bolls to the stalk. One limb exhibited had 38 well developed bolls. Mr. Sessoms expects to gather 600 bushels of potatoes from 1 1-8 acres of land this year.

STOCK SENTIMENT BEARISH

Optimism Inspired Earlier in Month Oozing Away—Market Apparently Lost Its Spontaneity. Reading Prominent.

New York, Sept. 23.—Speculative sentiment today was bearish. The optimism inspired by the rise in securities early in the month has been oozing away during the recent days of hesitating and dull trading, and today board room gossip was mildly pessimistic.

The market apparently had lost the spontaniety that characterized it on the upward swing, and it was evident that the stocks were being supplied whenever opportunity offered. Efforts to force up prices were virtually abandoned today after another spurt in Reading had failed to stir the general list from sluggish inaction. Fluctuations were narrow and meaningless until late in the day, when stocks dipped downward decisively.

Such ventures were made on the long side, and again centered in Reading, which piedded upward to 171, a new high figure for the year. Subsequently, it went off 2 points from its best quotation. Canadian Pacific gained 2 points and then fell back. People's Gas set a new high mark at 129¾. Rock Island stocks and bonds made up some of the ground on their recent slump. More than ordinary interest attached to the disposition of the large offering of South African gold at London today by reason of recent discussion of possible engagements of gold for importation into this country.

Germany's purchase of the bulk of the offering emphasized the pressing need of gold at that point, in connection with the October settlement. Bankers here said that cable advices from London that no demand had appeared from America was in line with their understanding that whether or not gold is imported in the near future, no efforts to arrange such shipments would be made until the October settlements had been arranged.

Bonds were irregular, with a lower trend. Total sales, par value, $1,680,000. United States 2s and Panama 2s declined ½c., and United States 4s, coupon, ¼ on call. Total sales were 294,000, including A. C. L., 300; C. and O., 900; Lehigh Valley, 1,500; Norfolk and Western, 400; Reading, 67,200; S. A. Another Atlanta girl is missing from home. Her mother describes her to the police as "a tall and striking brunette with romantic ideas." If such be the case we fear the worst. The brunette part was bestowed by nature, but the romantic ideas of the young woman could and should have been eliminated in childhood by a judicious use of the flat side of a hairbrush.—Savannah News.

AVOID THE BRONCHIAL COUGHS OF EARLY FALL

The changeable weather of early Fall brings on bronchitis and a hard cough that is wearing on the system, and seems to tear open the bronchial tubes and mucus lining of the throat. Use Foley's Honey and Tar Compound promptly. For it will soothe and heal the inflamed mucus lining, relieve the cough quickly, and help to expel the cold. It contains no opiates. Get the genuine in the yellow package, and refuse substitutes.—R. R. Bellamy.

and Robert Duncan, committed similar crimes in Louisville last week and left there Saturday for Indianapolis. Previous to the Louisville robberies the man is supposed to have attacked clothing merchants in Cleveland, Toledo, Philadelphia and Pittsburg.

In each town where the man operated his scheme was the same. He would register at a hotel under an assumed name, call on either one of the smaller clothing merchants or a second-hand dealer, and explaining that he had some samples he must get out of his possession at once, ask the dealer to go to his room. Once in the man's room the procedure nearly always was the same. The victim either was struck down or forced at the point of a revolver to submit to being bound and gagged. Then his valuables were stolen and the robber, leaving the merchant to be discovered by hotel employes, departed. In every case that was called to the attention of the police it was said the boldness with which the robber worked had thwarted suspicion until his victim was found. Ellis did not attempt to use any disguise and always attracted no attention from the merchant's store to his hotel. In most cases he passed through the lobby chatting to his intended victim. That the murderer of Schlansky is Joseph Ellis the police say they feel certain. He was identified at Louisville by photographs sent from his home and also from photographs sent out by the Pittsburg police who wanted the man under the name of Brokaw for an attack on a merchant there.

At the time that Schlansky was murdered four squads of detectives were seeking Ellis here. A telegram from the Louisville police department had been received earlier in the day asking the Indianapolis police to arrest Ellis. The squads made the investigation throughout the afternoon and night, and at the hotel where the man was killed, the clerks did not remember a guest answering Ellis' description.

Father Lives in Richmond.

Richmond, Va., Sept. 23.—Jacob Ellis, father of Joseph Ellis, wanted for crimes in Indianapolis, Louisville, and other cities, was much agitated here today when informed of the search being made for his son.

Joseph, the father said, came here with them less than a year ago from New York, but went back to that city. Six weeks ago Joseph came to Richmond, apparently for no other purpose than a visit, stayed one day and then returned to New York.

Later today, Ellis amended his earlier utterances by declaring that he did not come here from New York, but came from Los Angeles, where, for ten years, he said, he had been in business.

He admitted having received and answered a telegram Thursday, refusing his son further assistance.

Joseph Ellis' sister, aged about 20, describes her brother as follows: Age 17; weight 140; light hair, worn pompadour; light brown eyes and sound teeth.

CASE OF BLACKMAIL.

Sensational Testimony Given in Long Beach Millionaire Trial.

Los Angeles, Cal., Sept. 23.—Concentrating their efforts upon an attempt to prove that their client was the victim of a blackmail scheme, attorneys for George H. Boxby, the Long Beach millionaire on trial on charges of having contributed to the delinquency of two girls, produced some sensational evidence today.

Two of Bixby's lawyers, Oscar Lawler and Samuel Haskins, took the witness stand. The former testified concerning visits to his office of Cleo Helen Barker, Bixby's accuser in the present trial, and Jeanette Ellis, another former inmate of the Jonquil resort, each of whom filed suit against Bixby for $50,000 damages.

Lawler swore Miss Barker had given him a list of names of prominent men who she told him, her attorneys, W. H. Stevens and Charles S. McElvay, had said they "would go after and get money."

The list, according to Lawler, contained the names of Octavius Morgan, of Los Angeles, an architect known throughout the West, and W. H. Evans, a justice of the peace at Monrovia, Cal. Justice Evans swore he had received a letter from Attorney Stevens saying he would do well to call at the lawyer's office and discuss a matter of importance to him. He said he did not go but the attorney later called on him. Evans, however, said he had not considered it "advisable to come through" and had not done so.

Bixby's counsel announced that they expected to close for the defense tomorrow by calling Bixby to the stand. It was said that Bixby would make a general denial of the charges against him and testify he had gone to the Jonquil resort for philanthropic purposes only.

Washington, Sept. 23.—Up to a late hour tonight no trace had been found of W. P. Douglas, of Jacksonville, Fla., secretary of the Florida Life Insurance Company, reported to be missing in this city. The police of this city have not been requested to search for Douglas.

ELIMINATE DUPLICATION WORK.

Department of Agriculture to Weed Out Useless Expenditures.

Washington, Sept. 23.—A shakeup in the Department of Agriculture to eliminate duplication of work and reduce expenses was predicted by Secretary Houston today before the House Agriculture Committee. The secretary said his plan was not ready but declared that in one office he had discovered 23 unnecessary employes.

Secretary Houston urged favorable action on the Lever bill for co-operative agricultural extension work. His opinion was that the bill would result in great good to the farmers and that by such co-operation the problem of the boll weevil, Texas fever and many others might be solved.

Savannah, Ga., Sept. 23.—N. G. Darnley, a young Englishman arrested here a few days ago for securing cash by representing himself to be E. B. M. Atkins, of Selma, Ala., has confessed, according to the police, that he is wanted in Fairfield, Cal., for forgery. A circular was received by the local police after Darnley's arrest stating that a man of his description was wanted there and that there was a reward for his arrest.

Washington, Sept. 23.—The resignation of Bernard S. Rodey, U. S. attorney of Alaska, requested by Attorney General McReynolds, was received today.

AT WORK ON MESSAGE.

Craig Gives No Intimation of Position on Railroad Rate Offer.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Sept. 23.—Governor Craig is working constantly on his message to the Legislature which convenes in special session at noon tomorrow and he expects to have it ready to be read in both branches of the Assembly Thursday morning, by which time the law-makers will be organized for business.

He will not indicate what his recommendation as to the pending freight rate proposal by the railroad companies will be. He received today a criticism of the proposal by Rate Expert C. W. Hillman, who was employed by the Legislative Freight Rate Commission. And he will consider this along with criticisms that he has already received from rate experts, J. C. Forrester, of Greensboro; J. A. Ryan, of High Point, and J. L. Graham, of Winston-Salem. Most of these are understood to be favorable to acceptance of the proposal.

The Governor's massage will also treat of the pending proposals for amending the State Constitution and urge segregation of property for taxing purposes as one of the features of any amendment to the Constitution as to taxation.

The plan now is for the House to take up the railroad rate matters as first business and the Senate the constitutional amendments and in this way economize time in hopes of getting the work of the session cleared up within the 20 days.

A special from Rocky Mount is to the effect that that thriving city will send a big delegation here tomorrow to the mass meeting of North Carolina shippers and support the acceptance of the proposal of the railroads for settlement. The delegation will also come instructed to oppose the proposition of President Tate, of the North Carolina Just Freight Rate Association for two additional members to be appointed on the Corporation Commission, or else create a Railroad Commission separate and apart from the Corporate Commission to direct railroad matters.

The indications are for a very large attendance on the shippers' mass meeting and sentiment will probably be very much divided as to whether the pending proposal should be accepted or not. Some of the advocates of acceptance are saying that there may be a predominance of opponents of acceptance here, but that the great majority of shippers are really in favor of acceptance.

NEW YORK REPUBLICANS.

Favor Each State's Electing National Delegates as They Choose.

New York, September 23.—The Republicans of New York today declared in favor of changing the party rules so that each State may determine its own method of choosing delegates to the National convention, and so that State which, given the big Republican pluralities, shall have proportionately large power in selecting candidates for President. For this purpose, the New York Republicans call for a special National convention at an early date.

The proposition and its subsidiary question developed the biggest fight of the Republican State convention held here today. This struggle was staged, however, before the committee on resolutions. There the issue was fought out, with United States Senator Elihu Root, Henry L. Stimson, former Secretary of War, and Nicholas Murray Butler, president of Columbia University, as chief supporters of the proposal, and William Barnes, Jr., National Committeeman, as its strongest opponent. The resolution finally was approved, after the original measure had been amended to recommend the retention of the Congressional district as the basis of representation.

Later, the resolution was adopted by the convention, which thus made the demand for the change in rules the stand of the party in this State.

The convention wound up its labors by the nomination of William E. Werner, of Rochester, associate judge of the court of appeals, for chief judge, and Frank H. Hiscock, of Syracuse, for associate judge of the Court of Appeal. Judge Werner defeated State Senator Edgar T. Brackett for the nomination for chief judge by 447 votes to 151. Frederick E. Crane, of Brooklyn, a Supreme Court justice, opposed Judge Hiscock, but was defeated by a vote of 444 to 157.

At the night session of the convention, when the resolutions were adopted, and the candidates named, there was a rousing demonstration in honor of United States Senator Root, the permanent chairman.

Senator Root said that he began his work for the party forty years ago, and he hoped to continue that service as long as he lived. He said he wished to emphasize the importance of the coming election, declaring that the election of judges did not rouse the public interest it deserved.

The speaker then turned his attention to Tammany Hall. "She is no longer a local issue," he said. "She controls the Democratic party of the State. She reaches out her hand to control that great court upon which the protection of our liberty depends. I cannot present the deep humiliation I have felt to see the shame of our State in having the seal of Tamany impressed upon its government."

To Tammany, he charged the New York police scandals and the "disgraceful squabble at Albany."

"There can be no possible outcome of the impeachment trial, acquittal or conviction, under which the Democratic party, controlled by Tammany Hall, is not convicted," Mr. Root concluded.

There was another demonstration when District Attorney Charles S. Whitman, of New York, was called to the platform.

The resolution declaring in favor of changing the party rules and calling for a special convention to carry out the plan was presented in the report of the platform committee.

much of the fund, has not yet been subpoenaed, the Assembly managers' counsel announced tonight. He called up Governor Sulzer Sunday night, but since then the managers' process servers say they have been unable to locate him.

Today's session of the high court was about equally divided between efforts of the Governor's counsel to convince the judges that the articles dealing with campaign contributions should be dismissed and the arguments of their opponents that they were rightfully included in the impeachment charges.

D. Cady Herrick fired the opening gun. He was followed by Harvey D. Hinman, who presented the brief prepared by former Judge Irving G. Vann, the latter being prevented by illness from appearing in person.

Former Senator Brackett led the defense of the articles, and was followed by former Judge Parker and Isidor Kresel. Austen G. Fox, of the Governor's counsel had not completed his argument in rebuttal when court adjourned.

Elihu Root, Jr., filed a brief upholding the contentions of his colleagues in the Governor's camp.

The principal contention of the Governor's side was that the acts specified in the three articles objected to were committed, if at all, while Sulzer was a private citizen. Their opponents argued that they were so intimately connected with the office that it would be impossible to separate them.

"The managers here," declared Mr. Brackett, "want to stand broadly upon the proposition that a man may be wholly unfit for Governor of the Empire State some little time before he is really ripe for State's prison. The dividing line between the two—between ripeness for the State's prison and qualification for the Governorship—is broader than that.

"I want to stand for the proposition here and now that if at all within the power or jurisdiction of this court, or in any way competent, it should brush aside every contention that stands between the Governor of the State at the present time and his opportunity to come here and be cross-examined, make a defense affirmatively and demonstrate that he is a fit and clean man. It would be doing to Governor Sulzer himself the greatest good that can come to him during the term for which he was elected."

Garrison Still Held.

Troy, N. Y., Sept. 23.—Supreme Court Justice Cochrane at a hearing today on the application for a writ of habeas corpus for James C. Garrison, held for contempt of the Assembly, ruled that the commitment warrant as issued by the Assembly was valid and sufficient, contrary to the argument of Garrison's attorneys. The case was continued until next Saturday, when the justice will hear further arguments. After the hearing Garrison was returned to the Albany county penitentiary to be held pending further action.
